Marincello Wins Approval, 4-3, From Marin Planners

Marathon Hearing; To Supervisors Next

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The master plan for Marincello, the planned city of 20,000 among the Golden Gate Headlands, was approved by 4-3 vote of the Marin County Planning Commission last night.

The community on 2,100 acres west of Sausalito's Wolfback Ridge would have 19 apartment buildings each 16 stories high. Light industry and office buildings are also planned.

TRAFFIC WORRIES

"I don't think they've solved the traffic problem," Dougherty said.

Upton was worried also about the traffic the city would put onto Highway 101, and about the development adjacent to the proposed Headlands state park.

Warburg declared that the planned city was too close to San Francisco and would be oriented to San Francisco. He thought a planned city should be removed some distance from an urban center to be successful.

LONG HEARING

The vote came at 8:30 p.m. in a hearing that began at 2 p.m.

It was the fifth hearing on Marincello, the first two devoted to density alone and the last three to the plan as a whole. The commission on June 21 voted to reduce the density from 5.9 to 3.5 families per acre, and the master plan was amended accordingly.

Thomas Frouge, president of Frouge Corp., the developer, said with a weary smile at the end of the session that his company can now "go to work."

TO BOARD NEXT

However, the plan must pass the Marin County Board of Supervisors before it can be implemented. The board must hold at least one public hearing before acting on the plan.

Yesterday's session began with a crowd of 75, far fewer than the 200 who jammed the Civic Center meeting room at the first hearing in June. At the end of yesterday's session,

House Passes Poverty Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House today approved by voice vote a compromise $1.8 billion authorization for the second year of President Johnson's war-on-poverty bill.

The measure now goes to the Senate for final congressional action.

The bill carries provision for a veto by governors of local anti-poverty projects. Under it the federal anti-poverty agency —the Office of Economic Opportunity—still could override governor's veto of a proposed community action or neighborhood youth corps project.

Governors now have absolute veto power over such programs.

Blond Bandit Hits Store In Northgate

A blond man with bloodshot eyes held up the Bourbon Shop, 280 Northgate Shopping Center San Rafael, about 11:20 a.m. today and escaped with an unknown amount of currency in a brown paper bag.

Store manager Banks Hunter, 27, of Santa Rosa, told police the man walked into the shop and ordered a half pint of I. W. Harper whisky. Hunter placed the bottle in a bag and looked up to see a revolver pointed at him.

The gunman ordere Hunter to put all his currency in the bag with the bottle. Hunter said he did not know how much money he put in the bag, but believed it was $50 to $60.

The robber then walked out of the store and headed west, on foot, toward the Purity Store.

Although no car was seen used, police were on the lookout for a two-toned blue small foreign car, because one of two men in it fit the description of the robber. The car was seen headed south from Terra Linda on Highway 101.

The robber was described as about 25 to 38 years old, five feet, 10 inches tall, 175 pounds, with reddish blond hair in a one and one-quarter inch crew cut. He had light blue-grey eyes which were very bloodshot.

He was wearing a light blue sport shirt, light khaki pants and a light brown jacket, Hunter told police. Hunter was alone in the front of the store when the robber came in.

Autumn And Its Fog Return To County

Thick fog and autumn came to Marin at about the same time last night.

The sun crossed the equator at 11:06 p.m. for the autumnal equinox and the end of summer. The fog was still heavy in southern Marin late this morning, but was expected to burn off during the day, according to the Weather Bureau.

Goldberg Asks Viet Peace Aid; Has Atom Plan

Kashmir Worries Not All Over, U.N. Diplomat Warns

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United States today renewed its appeal to all U.N. members to use all means to persuade the Communists to negotiate a Viet Nam settlement.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, in his first major policy speech to the General Assembly, delivered a scathing attack on Communist China and its policy of revolution proclaimed recently by Marshal Lin Piao, Peking's defense minister. He urged the United Nations to deny Red China a seat in the organization.

Goldberg, who presided over the Security Council discussions which brought Indian and Pakistani agreement to a ceasefire in their Kashmir warfare, told the assembly that the conflict was "the gravest in the history of this organization."

"Once again," he said, "in rebuttal of skeptics and cynics, the United Nations has proved to be a decisive peace-maker...

"Once again, and not for the first time, I would like to emphasize, the voice of the United Nations has been heeded and respected...and now the task of the United Nations is to seize

PRIME SUSPECT? — Ex-convict Mark Charles Osuna, 30, of San Francisco, is shown entering a San Diego County sheriff's car yesterday after he was arrested for questioning in the killing of San Rafael bartender Mario Ferrari, 53, during Labor Day holdup of Mission Inn. Another ex-convict was arrested in San Francisco in connection with the case, but San Rafael authorities refused to talk about either man. (AP Wirephoto)

Two Arrests Linked To Murder, But San Rafael Police Are Mum

Two San Francisco men were arrested yesterday in different parts of California in connection with the Sept. 6 holdup-killing of a San Rafael bartender.

The case, however, was veiled in a cloak of secrecy today by San Rafael police and Dist. Atty Bruce B. Bales.

One of the men arrested—36-year-old Jack Gorman of San Francisco—was taken from San Francisco police headquarters by two San Rafael policemen last night, but was not taken to the Marin County Jail. His whereabouts remained a mystery today.

Gorman was arrested by San Francisco officers at 10th and Mission streets at request of San Rafael police.

San Diego County sherriff's officers arrested Mark Charles Osuna, 30, as he sat with his new bride in a parked car in a Del Mar residential section 20 miles from San Deigo.

Gorman and Osuna were both booked for parole violations and for questioning in connection with the murder of bartender Mario Ferrari, 52, at the Mission Inn, 720 B Street.

Ferrari was slain by two hooded bandits when he tried to run for help during the early morning robbery. The shooting occurred two hours after the gunmen broke into the apartment of Mission Inn owner Leo Albertoni and took him captive.

The robbers told Albertoni to call Ferrari and bartender Alfred Casey, 49, into the dining room. Ferrari yelled "to hell with you punks!" and started to run.

Officers in San Francisco and San Diego were less closemouthed about the case than were Marin authorities.

In San Diego, Sheriff's Lt. Warren Kanagy said his men were tipped by San Rafael police that Osuna may be a prime suspect in the case.

He was wed Friday and was on his honeymoon when arrested.

San Francisco police said Gorman also was picked up at request of the San Rafael Police Department. They said Gorman left San Francisco police headquarters last night with San Rafael Inspector Thomas Cheetham and another San Rafael officer.

Jailers at the Marin County Jail, however, said today that Gorman was never booked. San Rafael police claimed he was still in San Francisco.

Bales, saying he was speaking for himself and for San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa, said only that "several ex-convicts have been questioned in connection with the holdup, and we are not prepared to release any names at this time."

Process Server Stops Ship From Sailing After Collision

The 22,000-ton tanker Intercontinent, which rammed the Norwegian freighter Berganger near Point San Quentin yesterday, was declared seaworthy late yesterday and started to sail out of San Francisco Bay.

Her voyage, however, proved to be a short one.

As the giant vessel steamed under the Golden Gate Bridge, outbound for Long Beach, a U.S. marshal in a speedboat moved alongside and ordered her back to anchorage, explaining that owners of the Berganger had filed a $2 million admiralty suit in U.S. District Court.

The action was taken by Westfal-Larsen and Co. against Triton Steamship Co. Attorneys for Westfal-Larsen said the suit was to prevent the Intercontinent from sailing without first putting up a bond to cover damages to the Berganger, which was left with a huge hole torn in her starboard side after the collision.

The Norweigian ship, which had been run aground to keep her from sinking, was towed to the Todd Shipyard at Alameda to begin extensive repairs.

Cause of the accident was still unknown today. The Coast Guard said it would conduct a formal inquiry.

Crewman Paul B. Jensen, 38, suffered a concussion, broken nose, cuts and bruises in the accident, while a woman radio operator, Kjellaug Neilson, was shaken up. Both were aboard the Berganger.

No Angel Island Public Deer Kill To Be Allowed

There will be no public deer hunt on Angel Island.

That much was agreed upon during a tour of the island conducted yesterday by state park officials and several residents of Marin County. But beyond that, no decision was made on how to reduce the deer population.

This was the word today from Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Dunshee of Ross, who were in the tour group. Mrs. Dunshee is vice president of the Marin Conservation League.

"A public deer hunt would be too dangerous and there would be too many wounded deer," said Mrs. Dunshee.

She said officials of the State Division of Beaches and Parks and Fish and Game will study the problem further before any action is taken.

MOTHER INJURED EN ROUTE TO SCHOOL

Mrs. Julia Linehan, 40, of 92 Crestwood Drive, San Rafael, found taking her four children to school a hazardous job today. Mrs. Linehan's car hit a tree as she negotiated the double turn of Mission Avenue and B Street en route to St. Raphael's School at 8:30 a.m. She was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a cut head. Her children (seen at right) John, 11; Thomas, 9; Maureen, 7, and Edward, 6, were uninjured. (Independent-Journal photo)

CONGRESS PASSES IMMIGRATION BILL

Country Of Origin Curb Scrapped, But Canada, Mexico Limits Voted By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has voted to discard the national origins quota system of immigration and to substitute a policy of accepting immigrants regardless of their place of birth.

But unlike the House, the Senate in passing the immigration bill by a 76-18 vote yesterday put a ceiling for the first time on immigration from Western Hemisphere nations.

It now will be up to a Senate-House Conference Committee to work out this key difference in the bills.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., floor manager of the measure in the Senate, told newsmen it might be possible to reach a compromise that would permit the President to raise the Western Hemisphere ceiling if he found this vital to the national interest.

The scrapping of the national origins quota system has long been sought by those who contend it discriminates in favor of northern and western Europeans and makes an immigrant's place of birth more important than what he may contribute to the United States.

Under the system, adopted in 1924, immigration quotas are assigned to nations outside the Western Hemisphere on the basis of the national origins of the U.S. population in 1920.

Supporters of the system maintained it was in the national interest to favor immigrants who, because of their cultural backgrounds, could be assimilated most easily. England, Germany and Ireland have by far the largest shares of the

In place of this system, the

In place of this system ,the bill provides for accepting immigrants on a first-come, first-served basis regardless of place of birth except that preference would be given to those with close family ties to U.S. citizens or with special skills.

An annual quota of 170,000 is set for immigrants from nations outside the Western Hemisphere, with a limit of 20,000 from any single country.

The ceiling for Canada, Mexico and other nations in this hemisphere, beginning July 1, 1968, would be 120,000 without any country-by-country limitation.

Bosch Likely To Add To Dominican Worries

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Hope and resentment are the problem children of the Dominican revolution.

Too much of both could hurt a difficult and costly reconstruction job which this once prosperous, now bankrupt little country can hardly handle alone.

Dominicans and foreigners who share this impression say these post-revolution factors will be accentuated by the return of ex-President Juan Bosch from his exile in Puerto Rico.

The author-raconteur who governed only seven months in 1963 is due back Saturday, second anniversary of the coup that ousted him and led to the violent upheaval.

To many partisians Bosch embodies the rosiest revolutionary hopes. To his enemies he means undiluted disaster.

Even among some of the ex-president's allies there are twinges of apprehension that he may return with an overdeveloped sense of bitterness and vengeance, products of his belief that both his 1963 ouster and the U.S. armed intervention in April were engineered in Washington, with local connivance, to deprive him of power.

Bosch has spoken scathingly of American performance in the Santo Domingo revolt.

"The United States will pay a high price for this blunder, and, in my opinion, it will be paid within our time," he wrote in the New Republic in July.

"When democratic nationalism is thwarted or strangled, it becomes a breeding ground for communism. I am certain the use of force by the United States in the Dominican Republic will produce more Communists in Santo Domingo and in Latin America than all the propaganda of Russia, China and Cuba combined."

Klan Witness 'Tells All' In Secret Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities has located a key witness in its investigation of the Ku Klux Klan, a former klansman who "told all," a member of the committee said today.

Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., disclosed that the onetime klansman gave the committee an inside look at the invisible empire at a five-hour secret session this week.

"He will be very valuable when the committee's public hearings begin," said Weltner, 37, of Atlanta who pressed for the klan investigation when he joined the committee this year.

The hearings are scheduled to start next month.

Congress Sidelines Minimum Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A controversial $1.75-minimum wage bill that far exceeds the administration's recommendations apparently has been edged out of House consideration this session by a priority administration item — home rule for the District of Columbia.

The wage bill, which cleared the House Education and Labor Committee last month, was blocked from normal access to the floor by the House Rules Committee.

Instead, it is advancing under a procedure that permits it to be called up only on the second and fourth Mondays of any month. And yesterday, House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., announced he has no intention of calling it up next Monday.

That day has been set aside for consideration of the home rule bill, McCormack said, "and I don't want to confuse the issue by calling up anything else."

If the bill is not brought up Monday, then Oct. 11 is the next possible date. And by Oct. 11 Congress either will have adjourned or will be moving toward adjournment. The Senate has held only preliminary hearings.

The bill would raise the $1.25 minimum to $1.75 by 1968 for 29.6 million workers now covered. It would also extend coverage for the first time to 7.9 million farm and small business workers. Farm workers would be paid a minimum of $1.25 hourly by 1968 and newly covered workers would reach the $1.75 level by 1970.

According to U.S. Department of Agriculture, the average daily diet in 1909 contained 3500 calories, but by 1963 it was only 3150 calories.

TOO HIGH, NOW TOPLESS

Two inches make all the difference between uneventful passage and trouble, for this tractor-trailer rig in Charlotte, N.C., at a downtown trestle. Like a giant can-opener, the trestle's underside sliced off the trailer's top, but did not damage the 20 tons of sugar it carried yesterday. The clearance is 12 feet, four inches; the trailer was 12 feet and 6 inches. (AP Wirephoto)

Self Control Asked At U.C.

BERKELEY (AP) — The University of California's new chancellor says responsibility for lasting campus regulation rests in student self control.

Roger W. Heyns, the chancellor, told that yesterday to 8,000 students and faculty members.

Heyns, the first permanent Berkeley chancellor since last winter's demonstrations and arrests, received standing ovations at the start and finish of this talk.

He said the students must consider self-regulation because "the role of the university as a substitute parent has been changing." He called for increased student participation in campus rule-making and expressed optimism in Berkeley's future.

WHAT KIND OF SHOOTING
Larkspur Sign Unfunny To Police Chief Clark

A joke is an undependable thing. Not all people see it in the same way.

John R. Peoples of 31 Orange Avenue, Larkspur, discovered this unhappy fact when one of his tenants placed a conspicious sign in front of his property.

"I see it as strictly a joke," Peoples said. Larkspur police chief Howard Clark, however, was not amused.

"I see it as a threat on my life," he said.

In large block letters, the sign read: "31 ORANGE. ENTER AT OWN RISK." In smaller type it read: "Police officers will be shot on sight. Any person or persons found within these posted limits without authorization of the management is subject to the peoples penaly code section 2 article 1."

Chief Clark went to Peoples and ordered him to remove the line referring to police officers. Peoples agreed reluctantly.

"I told him Idid not like that line," Chief Clark said.

"I told him I did not like that not say they would be shot with guns. It could just mean that we will take pictures of them," Peoples said.

Peoples will keep the sign in hope that others will take it as a "good joke" and that "some persons" who have been entering his property and scattering litter will be convinced to keep out.

"I will probably insert the words elephants and lions for police officers, just to enhance the joke," he said.

President Not Wanted In ILWU Negotiations

HONOULU (AP) — Harry Bridges, president of the International Long Shoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, says he will ask President Lyndon B. Johnson to stay out of next year's negotiations for dockworkers if the government attempts to mediate.

In a speech Wednesday at the Hawaii I.L.W.U.'s biennial convention, Bridges said "we don't want President Johnson coming around and expecting us to make a few sacrifices for Viet Nam. It won't work. We don't want him to step into our negotiations."

The loganberry originated in the garden of Judge J. H. Logan at Santa Cruz, Calif., in 1881. The judge was trying to cross a wild blackberry with a cultivated variety, when some insect apparently played a trick on him: it pollinated a native blackberry plant with red raspberry pollen.

Head-On Car Crash Hurts Three Persons

Three persons were seriously injured at 11 p.m. yesterday in a two-car head-on collision on Highway 37 just inside the Sonoma County line east of the Petaluma Creek Bridge.

An eastbound car driven by Barbara Heffron, 23, of Daly City smashed with a westbound auto driven by Edward F. Fernandes, 34, of 17 Garner Drive, Novato. Fernandes' car drifted into the eastbound lane, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Both cars are Rambler station wagons.

Fernandes and Miss Heffron, along with a passenger in the Heffron car, Raymond Anderson, 22, of Napa, were taken to Novato General Hospital for emergency treatment.

Fernandes suffered from cuts on the face, a dislocated left hip and chest bruises. He was transferred to Marin General Hospital where his condition today was fair.

Misss Heffron was treated for hip and leg injuries. Anderson was treated for a bruised face and cut knee. Both where transferred to St. Francis Hospital, San Francisco, where Miss Heffron was in fair condition today and Anderson in 'satisfactory" condition.

Reagan Critical Of Birch Society, Won't Ask Its Aid

MODESTO (AP) — Actor Ronald Reagan criticized the John Birch Society and its founder at a Republican fund-raising banquet here last night.

Reagan, a prospective Republican candidate for governor, clarified his stand on the Birch Society to some 500 Republicans after his regular speech.

Asked in a question period what he thought of the society, Reagan said:

"I am not a member. I have no intention of becoming a member. I am not going to solicit their support."

Reagan said a "lunatic fringe" has infiltrated the Birch Society and said he is in "great disagreement" with Robert Welch, society founder.

"I think the society should feel a responsibility to take a stand on his (Welch's) statement," Reagan said. He did not elaborate.

Two Of Quads Are Improving

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two of the three surviving quadruplets born last Sunday to Mrs. Alice Piegee, 28, Los Angeles, showed "much improvement" yesterday and were able to take food my mouth for the first time, according to attendants in County General Hospital.

However, the condition of the three infants remained critical. At birth the quadruplets weighed less than three pounds each.

Virginia Pioneer An Early Tourist

Smith's sloop anchored off here during the summer of 1614—six years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth.

A veteran traveler, Smith was so impressed that he drew a sketch of Old Orchard and sent it to Sir Ferdinand de Gorges in England, describing the beach as the most beautiful he had seen.

Statistics show 21.2 babies per 1,000 population were born in 1964.

this great opportunity, this breathing spell, this great and inescapable responsibility, to help reinforce and solidify this gain so the cease-fire will not be transitory and ephemeral."

Secretary General Thant and his staff were working on the creation of a U.N. India-Pakistan Observer Mission (UNIpom) to supervise the Kashmir cease-fire.

Goldberg repeated U. S. willingness to join the Soviet Union in nuclear disarmament by mutually reducing the number of their carriers of nuclear weapons, halting production of fissionable materials and destroying nuclear arms from their respective arsenals.

He renewed Washington's offer to transfer 60,000 kilograms of U-235, the basic material of hydrogen weapons to the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) for peaceful uses if the Soviet Union would transfer 40,000 kilograms.

He said the United States stood firmly in favor of international treaties to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons and favored a comprehensive ban on all nuclear weapons tests.

Sentence Meted To Most Sit-Ins

BERKELEY (AP)—Sentencing of 32 University of California sit-in demonstrators Wednesday left 29 of the 754 accused participants in the occupation of Sproul Hall still to hear their penalties.

The sit-in protested university regulations — since modified — restricting political advocacy by Berkeley campus students.

All but three of the 32 were fined $150 or less and placed on probation with suspended jail terms.

Three refused probation and were ordered to pay $250 fines or serve 25 days in jail. They were Carolyn Walsh, 21; Dana Rae Shapiro, 20, and Michael Evenson, 19, all of Berkeley.

Birth Control Aid Sale Law Broadened

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The sale of birth control devices to persons over 16 years of age is now legal in New York.

The 1965 session of the legislature repealed a widely ignored prohibition against the sale of contraceptives unless, under a physician's prescription, they were for the "cure or prevention of disease."

Eagle-Eye DiMaggio Knows How To Deal With Bandits

By EDWARD J. MOWERY
Advance News Service

NEW YORK — The nation's lawmakers, now wrangling over a rash of gun control bills, could profit from a visit with Charlie (Eagle-Eye) DiMaggio, a firm believer in the people's constitutional right to "keep and bear arms."

The major thrust of the proposed laws is to deprive criminals of firearms. One controversial bill calls for mandatory registration of all guns in the District of Columbia.

As for Charlie, he prefers small arms but New York's Sullivan law forbids such protection without a permit. So Charlie takes 'em as they come.

A couple of weeks ago, it happened again. Two thugs, one waving a pistol, muscled into Charlie's upper east side delicatessen and hustled him into a rear washroom. One bandit snarled: "I'd rather shoot you than look at you."

Meekly, 62 - year - old Charlie handed over his watch, keys and $300 cash. And when the hoodlums headed for the front cash register, he lifted a sweater from a World War I Italian Army rifle, and let go. A single slug pierced one thug fatally and critically wounded the second.

"I don't know how many I've shot," unflustered Charlie told gaping reporters a few moments later. The police knew. A holdup victim 26 times in 20 years, Charlie has killed two intruders, wounded another and captured 15. The rest got away through a hail of bullets.

Yes, Charlie — like the National Rifle Assn. of America (NRA), Sen. Len Jordan, (R-Idaho), and others fighting restrictive firearms bills — disavows all legislative shackles of his means of self-defense.

And no law, opponents of the proposals declare, will halt forays by armed criminals. As for the hovering specter of national registration of arms by citizens, an association spokesman declared:

"Few seriously contend that registration will keep guns from criminals. And the latter, of course, will not register their weapons. Registration lists would actually contain only the names of law-abiding citizens using guns for recreation, or in defense of their families, homes and property."

It is the rifle association's contention that sinister overtones may spring from any suggested registration of privately owned guns. The group adds that the "basic" reason for such a move is to permit possible seizure of citizens' arms by "political authorities, through police whom they control," when seizure is deemed "necessary or desirable."

Constitutions of most states, the association stresses, echo the right to "keep and bear arms" embodied in the Second Amendment. And nations which enacted similar restrictive gun laws were prostrated by the Hitler juggernaut.

"When England, for instance, faced German armies across the channel in 1940," the official recalled, "she found herself dangerously low in capacity to produce arms quickly, and in the quantity of weapons in the hands of citizens. Why? Her firearms act had dried up Britain's arms industry.

" 'Lawless' America had to come to her aid with rifles for the British Army, and all types of small arms for the Crown's police and civilians."

Senator Jordan, Idaho's former governor and sheep rancher, like most westeners, keenly appreciates the value of citizens' protective arms.

Jordan, who once carved a successful ranch property out of the barren, rugged rim of Hell's Canyon on the Snake River, observed:

"You can be sure that any bill which ignores or erodes the people's constitutional right to 'keep and bear arms' will encounter considerable resistance . . ."

Donated Lard Has Metal Shreds

LANSING, Mich (UPI)—Authorities said today some people ate lard from a batch containing metal shreds. They raised the fear steel fragments might start deadly infections.

But officials said no illness had been reported so far and they believed the worst danger was over.

Lynn Kellogg, deputy director of the Michigan Welfare Department, said 1,056 two-pound lard cakes from the contaminated shipment had been distributed to 712 poor families in five rural northern Michigan counties.

Senate Cuts $50 Million Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate trimmed an additional $50 million from the $3 billion-plus foreign aid money bill today and pressed on toward a final vote.

The $50-million cut was through adoption by a 45-35 vote of an amendment proposed by Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass. It brought Senate slashes in the House-passed bill to $142 million, thus reducing the aid measure to $3,143,000,000.

The amendment trimmed $20 million each from the technical cooperation and support assistance programs, and $10 million from aid to international organizations.

Its adoption brought the bill to $217 million below the total authorized by Congress as a ceiling for foreign aid expenditures in the fiscal year which began July 1.

Federal School Funds For State

WASHINGTON (AP)—California is scheduled to get $94,975,827 of the nearly $1 billion school aid fund approved today by President Johnson.

man and Osuna, Bales said they were being questioned in connection with possessing firearms while on parole, and added, "there is reason to believe they were in San Rafael on or about the time of the murder."

Chiesa would not say anything about the case.

Cheetham declined to talk about Gorman or Osuna, saying only that several persons had been questioned in the case.

At Cheetham's request, the Marin County Sheriff's Office yesterday sent five skindivers from its volunteer underwater recovery and rescue unit to dive in Stow Lake in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park.

Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson, who heads the rescue unit, said he was not told why the divers were needed.

Donald Joslyn, who recruited four other skin divers to accompany him on the assignment, said they dived in Golden Gate Park. He said he had been forbidden by the police to tell anything about the assignment.

Bales and Chiesa would not say what the divers looked for, but said the search proved unsuccessful and was abandoned.

Osuna was paroled in May from San Quentin Prison, where he had been serving time for a 1955 robbery in San Francisco. Gorman was paroled from San Quentin Aug. 6. He had been in the prison only since July 20, 1964, and records remaining at the prison since his parole did not show his crime.

A REALLY HOT RACER

With only four of its 15 rocket propulsion units burning, the Wingfoot Express roars down the Bonneville Salt Flats yesterday in a trial run. The Goodyear-sponsored vehicle is attempting to shatter the world land vehicle speed record of 536.71 miles per hour set last year by a jet-powered vehicle. It recalls German experiments with rocket-powered racing vehicles in the 1930s. (UPI Telephoto)

Ranchers Show Up State's Experts On Dam Building

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Mrs. Raymond Monge, of the Adin area, near the Lassen-Modoc county border, claims her family knows more about dam construction than some of the "school book engineers" of the state and will get a $6,000 check from the state board of control to prove it.

Mrs. Monge appeared before the board this week to present a claim. The board hears cases of individuals who believe they have been wronged by the state and ask for payment.

The Monges operate a ranch in Modoc county, including a 130-acre hay field which is irrigated by water stored behind a dam. The first dam was washed out by high water and the state offered to build a new one because its highway work in the area had interfered with the flow of water.

Mrs. Monge told the board the state engineers wanted to build a dam with a concrete core and earthfill sides but her family told them the water would wash out the earthfill wings of the dam. Last winter it did just that.

The state offered to pay the Monges the costs of rebuilding the dam, so long as state regulations were followed, which meant use of only union labor. The Monges wouldn't agree to this but went ahead and built the new dam — without earthfill wings — on their own.

Mrs. Monge appeared before the board asking for reimbursement of the cost of building the dam, plus the loss of hay which resulted from the dam being inoperative for the year. The board responded by approving some $6,000 to repay the Monges.

Patrolmen Take Man Off Bridge

Noel T. Jessup, 27, of Alameda, was taken from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday evening by California highway patrolmen who said Jessup planned to jump from the bridge.

Jessup said he was troubled by financial problems and planned to jump, patrolmen said. He was arrested near the car he had stopped at the north tower of the bridge at 5:40 p.m. Jessup was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

Stolen Signs, Hose Found In Slough

About $30 worth of display signs and a 20-foot garden hose were taken from Arner's Chevron Station at the Boardwalk Shopping Center, Belvedere, between 7 p.m. yesterday and 6:40 a.m. today.

Belvedere police said the signs and hose were found about 7 a.m. today in the slough across Tiburon Boulevard from the shopping center.

Long Time Worker Dead At Age 102

Thirty-eight years ago, when he was 64, a Providence foundry discharged him for being "too old" to continue working.

Johnson got a job as messenger for an insurance firm, and held it until he retired at the age of 91.

Aide To Brown To Discuss Watts

Winsluow Christian, executive secretary to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, will speak next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the San Rafael courthouse.

Christian will discuss "Watts and Beyond" at the monthly meeting of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs. Christian spent considerable time in Los Angeles on the governor's behalf investigating the causes of the Watts riot last month.

The Methodist Church of San Rafael was dedicated on Feb. 18, 1870, on Fifth Avenue, between A and B streets. The building was later moved to Fourth Street. It later became a furniture store and still later a book shop, and was burned to the ground in July, 1957.

Brown Concerned On Alcoholism

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown said people become greatly excited and worried about the 50,000 to 60,000 dope addicts in the U.S. but there is not the same public outcry about the more serious problem of 5 million alcoholics.

Brown made the comments in a brief talk to the state coordinating council on alcohol problems, a new group authorized by the 1965 legislature. The law creating the council provides for a coordinated state-local attack on alcoholism and other drinking problems, such as drunk driving and crimes related to intoxication.

Brown said the council should concentrate on preventing alcohol problems from arising, rather than "picking up the pieces" after alcoholism has struck.

Vatican Bishops Concerned With Every Man's Morality

VATICAN CITY (AP) —Bishops at the Vatican Ecumenical Council voted approval today of the general outlines of a schema on modern world problems, including birth control and nuclear warfare.

It was the first time in the 2,000-year history of the Roman Catholic church that a general council had officially agreed to go ahead with preparation of a formal declaration addressed to all mankind on non-religious contemporary matters.

The vote was only a preliminary one, and continuing debate indicated the document would be extensively rewritten.

Today's secret vote in St. Peter's Basilica by the 2,200 prelates was disclosed by council spokesmen but the vote count was not announced.

Major questions like birth control, nuclear warfare and world peace have gained all the attention since the document was first brought into St. Peter's Basilica last October.

But the document does not overlook minor actions that form a mosaic picture of morals today — the speeding motorist who jeopardizes the lives of others, the tax dodger who lets his fellow citizens carry an extra load, the violator of public hygiene laws who menaces a neighborhood's health.

As for the definition of who is one's neighbor, answered by Christ in the Gospel account of the Good Samaritan, the council schema gives the idea modern dress in this way:

"Our neighbor is the old man forgotten by everyone, the foreign worker who everyone looks down upon without reason, the illegitimate child who unjustly bears the weight of a misdeed that the child itself did not commit, the hungry who appear unexpectedly on the television screen awakening our sleeping conscience. . . ."

Even a 120-year-old is a mere whippersnapper compared to some tortoises. Claims of tortoises living 300 years and more cannot be authenticated, but one famous Marion's tortoise lived on the Indian Ocean island of Mauritius from 1766 to 1918 when it was accidentally killed at the age of 152.

Driving Fine Is Suspended

Walter Eugene Carpenter, 41, of 26 Spring Grove Avenue, San Rafael, was given a suspended $250 fine in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving on the condition that he pay $100. Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. also placed him on six months probation.

Carpenter was arrested July 3 by San Rafael police.

William Albert Schaller, 49, of 1222 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was given a six months suspended jail sentence and ordered to serve 30 days as a condition of the suspension. He was arrested Sunday by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

BIPEDAL PORKER

The pigs in the satire "Animal Farm" plotted to take over the world while chanting "four legs bad, two legs good," and it seems like this 30 pound youngster is a convert—he walks only on his hind legs. Actually, however, his front legs were injured when his mother stepped on him, and he learned to rise from a prone position and walk bipedally. His owner is Earl Davenport, of Yorktown, near Muncie, Ind. (AP Wirephoto)

Muriel Appenzeller Heads Affairs Group

Directors of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs last night elected Mrs. Murial Appenzeller of 1051 Las Raposas, Terra Linda, as vice chairman, succeeding Joseph A. Forest of Novato.

Robert McCreadie, a Novato attorney, was elected a director to succeed Forest, who resigned because of his appointment to the county counsel's office.

Before electing Mrs. Appenzeller, the board amended the council by-laws so the board can elect officers between annual membership meeting if vacancies occur.

Chairman Naphtali H. Knox reported council membership is "approximately 300," and the election of McCreadie brought the board to a "full complement of 27." Thirteen directors were present for the meeting.

Knox also reported that he has written to Rep. Don H. Clausen urging support of a bill that will require three per cent of federal road construction funds to be used for highway landscaping. Under the present law, three per cent may be used, but under the proposed law it shall be used, Knox said.

Directors also decided to accent their study on the feasibility of rapid transit buses for Marin by appointing three members to assist Pieter Toal, transportation committee chairman.

N. Robert Heyer of San Anselmo and Michael Harris of Sausalito were named, and a third director is yet to be named to assist Toal in the study.

Eagle Shooter Trial To Be Set

A date for the trial of rancher Leroy Martinelli of Point Reyes Station on charges of illegally shooting two eagles is scheduled to be set in U. S. District Court in San Francisco Oct. 4.

A trial had been set for April 26, but attorney A. E. Bagshaw, representing Martinelli, and Asst. U.S. Atty. Gerrold Lader of Mill Valley, asked for a later date.

Martinelli shot and killed two eagles in January. He claimed three eagles killed seven of his lambs.

State Won't Pay County's Claim Over Dam Break

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state board of control had denied a $250,000 claim against the state by the Placer County water agency because of the breech of the Hell Hole dam during last December's flood storms.

The agency said it was the target of a number of suits because the dam broke and asked the state to indemnify it.

The board also denied a series of claims totaling some $275,000 from persons who had paid the state for costs of care of patients in mental hospitals. The state supreme court, in the Kirchner decision, has ruled that the section of law providing for collection of costs or patients care in state institutions was unconstitutional.

The claims denied by the board were for care costs paid before the decision was handed down by the court. The board said it would be up to the courts to decide if the state was liable for costs paid before the law was held unconstitutional.

House Red Take-Over Stand Angers Columbians, Peru

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Some Latin-American countries have reacted angrily to a resolution passed by the U. S. House of Representatives approving the use of force in any American nation threatened by a Communist take-over.

The congresses of both Peru and Colombia passed unanimous resolutions of their own condemning it. Newspapers from left to right were hostile and there has been no favorable comment.

The U.S. resolution said "acts possessing characteristics of aggression and intervention carried out against one or more of the member states of the Organization of American States may be responded to either in individual or collective form, which could go as far as resort to armed force."

The resolution merely expresses the feeling of the House. It does not require Senate action and does not fix administration policy.

Two Cents Messing Up Co-Op's Books

SYDNEY (AP) — In 1961 Stewart Fraser Husband of Cessnock received a dividend check for two pence (two cents) from the Newcastle Co-Operative Building Society.

He still has the check — along with four letters from the auditors asking why he hasn't presented it.

A CRASH LIKE THUNDER

A giant Sequoia nearly 3,000 years old smashed to earth yesterday at Big Trees State Park located on the Toulumne-Calaveras counties line. The 200-foot tall tree will remain where it fell and trails which the tree blocks will be re-routed, rangers say. It was known as "Uncle Tom's Cabin Tree" because centuries ago fire burned out a large room-like space in its trunk. (AP Wirephoto)

Eye Solution Mild Irritant, Druggist Says

Jack Heard, president of the Marin County Pharmaceutical Assn., today reported that the mislabeled eye wash bottles discovered last week contained a mildly acidic solution, which would cause no more than temporary eye irritation.

Heard warned on Saturday that 96 bottles were mistakenly labeled boric acid, a solution normally used as eye wash, and that some may have been purchased by Marin County residents.

There has been no report of any bottles located since Saturday, he said, but prior to Saturday bottles were found in Marin and San Mateo counties.

The bottles came from the Robinson Laboratory in San Francisco. J. William Parker of Homestead Valley, vice president of Robinson Laboratory, said all pharmacists have been notified of the mislabeling, and the bottles have been recalled.

Car, Bike Hit; Youngster Hurt

Eight-year-old Kenneth S. Wagner of Sleepy Hollow suffered minor injuries when the bicycle he was riding collided with a car at Van Winkle and Crane drives, Sleep Hollow, at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Kenneth D. Frey, 35, or 35 Terry Road, Sleepy Hollow, said he was westbound crossing the intersection when he saw the bicycle coming out of Crane Drive, the patrol reported.

Filippo of San Rafael has been awarded contract for the building at $192,471. It will replace the present district offices at 834 Vallejo Avenue. Pope To Meet U.S. Religious Bloc Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—Pope Paul VI's journey to the United Nations to plead for peace will include a meeting with American religious representatives.

The Pope will confer with Protestant, Orthodox and Jewish emissaries to the United Nations on the cause of world peace.

The meeting was added to his itinerary yesterday, as was a visit to the Vatican pavilion at the World's Fair.

The Pope's visit to New York Oct. 4 also will include a meeting with President Johnson and celebration of Mass at Yankee Stadium.

The brief conference will be with spiritual leaders "who share the concern for peace," said the Rev. Timothy Flynn, head of the Bureau of Information of the New York Roman Catholic archdiocese.

The ice cream cone was invented at 1903 St. Louis World's Fair, when E. M. Hamwi, a waffle vendor, offered his products to an ice cream vendor, who had run out of dishes.

Storms Continue To Pound Central U.S. As Fall Arrives

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Autumn rushed in with violence today as rains pounded the nation's soggy midsection and rivers flooded farm land and homes, driving thousands of persons to higher ground.

Autumn nudged summer into history at 1:06 a.m. EST today.

But the passing of the summer season was only a formality. The weather continued its dreary and damaging weeklong routine of torrential rainstorms which spawned raging floods.

At least two persons died in weather-connected accidents.

Blinding rains bringing up to 10 inches of water pelted much of Texas and sent the Pedernales River rising in front of President Johnson's LBJ Ranch home.

Austin, Tex., was soaked with 4 inches of rain, the LBJ Ranch 4 inches and a 10-inch deluge fell between Fredericksburg and Llano in the same area.

Marble Falls, Tex., reported 8.4 inches of rain and Lake Lyndon B. Johnson, where the President takes his speedboat and cruiser rides, reported .698 inches.

A tornado north of Longview in eastern Texas damaged several oil storage tanks and well derricks and ripped up trees.

Many rivers spilled over their banks in the mid-Mississippi Valley yesterday, with serious flooding reported in parts of Kansas, Iowa, Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, Oklahoma and Illinois.

In Illinois, torrential rains flooded out tiny Pearl City near Freeport in the northern sector. But the 500 residents were returning home as the Yellow Creek subsided after the town's worst flood in 25 years.

Damage to crops was feared heavy.

Two Ft. Smith, Ark., fishermen drowned when their car plunged off a bridge during a downpour into a small, normally shallow stream swollen to a 10-foot depth by rains.

Low Cost Insurance Approved For Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House completed congressional action today on a bill to allow members of the armed forces to buy a $10,000 group life insurance policy for as little as $2 a month.

It accepted by voice vote a minor Senate amendment to the bill the House passed earlier.

Marin Red Cross Chapter Honors Three Volunteers, Elect Slate

Mrs. E. Gould Ingram, Belvedere, and George F. MacKenzie, San Anselmo, were honored with awards for their service to the American Red Cross at the annual meeting of the Marin Chapter last night at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Also receiving an award was Mrs. Joseph Tilt, San Anselmo, who is on her way to Greece and was not present. She and MacKenzie were named "Volunteers of the Year," and Mrs. Ingram was given the Clara Barton award. Mrs. Tilt has served as the chapter's training chairman, and MacKenzie is treasurer. Mrs. Ingram is chairman of volunteers.

Speaker was Howard Topping, a vice president of Bank of America in San Jose and a member of the board of governors of the American National Red Cross.

Topping told the Red Cross members that unless they kept terms of all the changes all over the country, such as population growth, teenage marriages and resulting young families, fights over control of welfare agencies and other changes including phased retirement, the organization would cease to function.

He cited instances in the Watts riots where breakdown of communications between Red Cross and local governmental agencies caused Red Cross to be ineffective. "If you have an updated, effective disaster program in this county, you are unusual," he said.

Topping also questioned the advisability of Red Cross spreading its energies too far in various programs such as becoming involved in certain aspects of the war on poverty, saying that Red Cross was answering someone else's challenge.

Charles Denton, San Francisco Examiner Columnist, was master of ceremonies and assisted Mrs. Susan Hossfeld, recognition chairman, in presenting awards to volunteers.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. William R. Eastman Jr., who is serving as chapter chairman following the the resignation of Herbert E. Ruprecht, who has moved to Pennsylvania.

Elected to the board of directors were Andrew Bretz, Edward W. Bullard Jr., Hugh Cassidy, Mrs. Arthur Colbran, Elias S. Day, Mrs. Eastman, the Rev. David C. Jacobson, Mrs. Andrew Kozak, Mrs. Byron Leydecker, Mrs. Edward J. Ruff, Mrs. Elmer A. Weden Jr., Lee C. Wise, all three year terms; Mrs. William D. Caddell and Mrs. Ingram, two year terms; Dr. Bert C. Corona, Jack Herman, Mrs. Julius Karlonas and Mrs. Jordan Martinelli Jr., one year terms.

Certificate of appreciation were given to all first aid instructors and also to Mrs. W. C. Detsch, Mill Valley; Mrs. Ernest Mareck, Novato; Mrs. Clinton Lewis, San Rafael; Alfred E. Riggs, San Rafael; Carl F. Gromme, Kentfield, and the Rev. Llewellyn A. White, Belvedere.

Receiving awards for long service were Mrs. John C. Kittle, 30-year bar; Mrs. Ferdinand Allenberg, Novato, 25-year bar; Mrs. Eastman, 15-years; Elias S. Day and Mrs. John Olson, San Rafael; Mrs. Detsch; Mrs. Hugh P. Draney, San Francisco; Mrs. Verne J. MacFarlan, Fairfax; and Mrs. Samuel A. Young, Kentfield, 10-years; Miss Catherine Allen, Mrs. George Alpers, Riggs, Mrs. E. W. Strachan and Jerry M. Soest, all of San Rafael; Mrs. F. J. Bertrand, Tiburon; Mrs. George E. Beyers, Mrs. Evelyn W. Leedy and John C. Stickney, San Anselmo; Mrs. Leonard Carney, Novato; Mrs. Marie M. Fenner and Mrs. Oliver C. Stine, Ross; Mrs. J. Lyman Hurlbut and Charles Massen, Larkspur; Mrs. Emma C. Koepke, Mill Valley, Mrs. Howard R. Perry, Corte Madera, and Mrs. Albert M. Vanbianchi, San Geronimo, all five year bars.

Local May Get New District

The request of Marin's Painters Union Local 83 to switch from District Council 8 in San Francisco to District Council 16 in Oakland has received backing from organizer Al King of the International Brotherhood of Painters and Paperhangers, Local 83 treasurer George R. Scott said today.

No action, however, has been taken yet by the international union's executive board, which must decide the issue.

Scott said that King, who has been in the Bay Area for two weeks studying the dispute between the San Rafael local and District Council 8, made his recommendation by telephone and letter to top union officials.

DIKE CRUMBLES, FLOODS POUR IN

Cattle, surrounded by two rampaging creeks near Kingfisher, Okla., huddle miserably on high ground, after downpours Tuesday flooded much of the state's central area and forced 1,500 persons from their homes. Although the Oklahoma waters were receding today, the central United States continued to take a pounding from rains, floods and winds. (AP Wirephoto)

New Assembly Re-Map Plan Would Let Incumbents Stay

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The broad outlines of an Assembly reapportionment plan tailored to keep incumbents — Democrats and Republicans alike—in their jobs was disclosed for the first time today.

As it stands now, San Francisco will lose an Assembly seat and a new one will be created in Orange and San Bernardino counties.

In the rest of the state, legislative aides reported, district lines will be shifted to meet the State Supreme Court's equal population standard.

But they'll be designed to retain the present composition of the lower house, 49 Democrats and 31 Republicans.

"The general attempt is to create existing districts for incumbents, no matter what the party," a source said.

Meanwhile, Senate aides worked on upper house redistricting, also ordered by the high court.

Under the high court rule, San Francisco doesn't have the population to support its current five Assembly districts. The court ideal standard for the average district is 196,167—with a variation of 15 per cent more or less permitted.

The Democratic leadership's plan likely means that Republican Assemblyman Milton Marks would be the San Francisco victim. He is expected to be appointed to the municipal court by Gov. Brown. That still would leave a scramble among the city's four democratic assemblymen when boundaries are readjusted.

But the new Southern California district, aides said, will have a 52 per cent Republican registration and they expect the GOP to win it.

It would stretch along the borders of Orange and San Bernardino counties, including the cities of Anaheim, Fullerton and La Habra on the western side and Ontario on the east.

Los Angeles County's 31 Assembly districts won't be drastically changed, an aide said, but some lawmakers are seeking small revisions to improve their political positions.

He didn't see any changes for San Diego County.

But there'll be a lot of revisions in the San Joaquin Valley.

Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr., D-Merced, is now scheduled to add Santa Cruz County to his valley district but lose Madera County. Madera would go to Assemblymen Charles B. Garrigus, D - Reedley, and George N. Zenovich, D-Fresno.

At present, Santa Cruz County is in the domain of Assemblyman Alan Pattee, R-Salinas, but he'd be left with only Monterey County to bring his district within court standards.

In another valley change, Assemblyman John T. Williamson, and Jack Casey, Bakersfield Democrats, will be forced to revise their Kern County districts and Williamson is asked to take some of San Luis Obispo County.

Assemblyman John Veneman, R-Modesto, with too few people in his district, would take some of the San Joaquin County district of Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, would lose part of Sonoma County to Assemblyman Frank Belotti, R-Eureka, who would give up part of Lake County to Assemblyman Ray Johnson, R-Chico.

Assemblyman Victor C. Veysey, R-Brawley, will get part of Riverside County, in addition to his present lightly populated Imperial County, now the smallest Assembly district in population.

Small boundary adjustments are scheduled for San Mateo and San Bernardino counties and Santa Clara County's two Democratic assemblymen—William Stanton and Alfred Alquist—will be forced to take some of the Republican territory of Assemblyman George Milias of Gilroy.

The Assembly Democratic leadership is showing the plan to lawmakers and expects to make some changes to meet their criticisms. If all goes well, an aide said, the plan will be formally unveiled in the middle of next week.

Children Dead In Refrigerator

BOSTON (AP)—A 5-year-old boy and his little sister, their hands clasped together, and a third child suffocated when the door snapped closed on the refrigerator in which they were playing.

William Houlsen, 5; his sister, Ann Marie, 3; and a playmate, Joseph Cinelli, 3, crawled into the bottom half of the refrigerator Wednesday in a yard behind an appliance store. When the door closed they were sealed inside.

Police said the appliance store owner had received the refrigerator in a sales trade and had planned to move it into a storage shed before the store closed.

Dixie School Additions Authorized

Trustees of Dixie School District last night authorized architect Richard Banwell of the firm of Banwell and Rockwell to draw preliminary plans for addition of four classrooms and a library to Dixie School in Upper Lucas Valley and a multi-use room to Miller Creek School in Marinwood.

Asst. Supt. Joseph B. Goff reported the trustee also scheduled a special meeting for 7:30 p.m., Oct. 6, to discuss application for state money to finance the projects.

The new space will be needed by the fall of 1966 to handle pupils from new homes under construction in the district.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Accepted the resignation of Augusta Cunningham, receptionist-stenographer in the district office, and authorized hiring Birdie Wilson to replace her as of Oct. 1.
2. Appointed Robert Butler of 724 Colindas Avenue and Phillip Baker of 48 Elena Circle to the district finance study group.
3. Granted an additional day of leave with pay for those empolyees wishing to observe Rosh Hoshanah and Yom Kippur.

Woodside Temporarily Is Giving In To AEC

WOODSIDE (AP) — Woodside is conceding temporarily to the Atomic Energy Commission in their dispute over above-ground power lines.

Mayor Donald Graham announced yesterday that Woodside would end legal opposition to AEC plans to erect the lines through this plush community 25 miles south of San Francisco.

The AEC wants to string a 220,000-volt transmission line to the new $114 million nuclear linear accelerator on Stanford University property. AEC spokesmen said the expense would be too great to install the line underground.

Woodside residents contend overhead lines would spoil the natural beauty of their 4,200-population community. The town horsy and rural, contains many fine estates.

Town officials, pointing to a Woodside ordinance forbidding overhead utility lines, took their case to court when AEC plans first were announced.

Woodside won in a May 20 decision by the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals but the victory was short-lived.

Congress passed a bill permitting the AEC to override such local ordinances.

President Johnson signed the bill Aug. 24 but next day assigned Laurance Rockefeller, chairman of the White House Conference on Natural Beauty, to look into the matter.

Rockefeller suggested a compromise that would change the overhead lines to underground lines in five to seven years, the government and Woodside to share the expense. President Johnson endorsed the compromise.

More Jobs Must Pace Newcomers

PALO ALTO (AP)—California must create 500 new job opportunities each day to keep pace with new people entering the state at a rate of 1,700 a day, an employment executive said today.

"This great population influx is a major reason why unemployment in California is around six per cent as compared to the national average of five per cent," said Norman Gilbert of San Francisco.

Gilbert is executive secretary of the California Employment Agencies Association. He reported to the association convention opening today.

Highway Is Obsolete After Only 10 Years

DANVERS, Mass. (UPI) — Only 10 years old, a superhighway here can't handle the traffic and must be replaced by an even more super highway.

A 17-mile stretch of Interstate 95 will be rebuilt and enlarged at a cost of more than $14 million.

One Burned, Three Die In Plane Crash

UPLAND (AP)—A light plane crashed into a house today, killing all aboard and critically injuring one of the residents, police reported.

Officers said three bodies were pulled from the flaming wreckage and it is believed that there were no more aboard the craft. None of the bodies was identified. Two of the dead were men, one a woman.

Critically injured with 90 per cent of his body burned is Walter Wolfe, who with his wife, Irene, was asleep at the time the Cessna 175 pancaked upside down into their bedroom.

Neither was injured at the time, police said. But Wolfe ran outside to fight the flames with a garden hose, and his wife ran to the living room to telephone the fire department.

Then the plane's gas tank exploded, officers said. Wolfe was showered with flaming gasoline. His wife was not hurt.

Police Sgt. Howard Seay said the plane had taken off from Ontario International Airport. He said the pilot had filed no flight plan.

The crash occurred four miles from the Ontario airport, half a mile from the approach end of a private strip in Upland—The Cable Airport.

Woman Killed In San Jose Laundry Attack

SAN JOSE (AP) — An elderly woman was stabbed to death today in a self service laundry near San Jose State College.

Police said the unidentified victim apparently was attacked by an armed robber who caught her alone. No purse was found.

Arthur Smart, San Jose State student, said he saw a dark young man in a tan sports coat run from the place.

Smart, sweeping the porch of a sorority house across the street, said he heard a woman scream, "Stop that man."

He gave chase but lost sight of the man when he rounded a corner about a block away.

U.S. Soldier Killed In Mock Warfare

SEOUL (UPI)—An American soldier killed in a field exercise accident yesterday was identified today as Sgt. Dewayne M. Hender of Marina, Calif.

Hender was with an American unit which opened fire on South Korean troops with blank cartridges. The South Koreans were unaware that it was a mock battle and fired back with live ammunition.

Hender was the only casualty.

Police Arrest Alleged Bookies

BERKELEY (AP)—Berkeley police and federal Internal Revenue agents said they broke up a bookmaking ring yesterday that was operating near Golden Golden Gate Fields racetrack.

Police said they arrested James Taylor and John Morris, Verna Pendergreass, 62, of nearby Albany.

The three were charged with suspicion of bookmaking and released on bail.

Vacancy Filled But Another Trustee Quits

The Bolinas-Stinson School District Board, one vacancy filled by the county to end a 2-to-2 tie, was handed another resignation last night.

Mrs. Roberta Shockey of Stinson Beach, a former board member, was seated to fill the vacancy left by resignation of Irving E. Levine. She was selected by the county board of education after Bolinas-Stinson trustees split 2-to-2 on whether to appoint her or Mrs. Patricia Vitelli of Bolinas.

No sooner was Mrs. Shockey seated than Mrs. Harry Phillips submitted her resignation.

She is moving to Contra Costa County.

Letters of application for the vacancy may be addressed to the board clerk and the board will interview candidates at its meeting at 8 p.m., Oct. 13, Bolinas School.

Four inter-district attendance agreements were approved to permit four pupils to attend school at Point Reyes Station. One pupil lives on the boundary line and two pupils accompany their mothers who teach in the west Marin district.

He was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with multiple cuts and bruises and a fractured right shoulder.

Russ Launch Another In Cosmos Series

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today launched another satellite of the Cosmos series, Cosmos 91, the Tass news agency reported.

The series of unmanned satellites has been used for exploratory work in space preparatory to a manned moon flight.

The satellite carries instrumentation to continue space exploration under the Cosmos program announced on March 16, 1962, Tass said.

Apogee—212 miles.

Perigee—131 miles.

Inclination—65 degrees.

London Gang Gets $89,000 In Payroll

LONDON (UPI)—A gang of 10 men, whooping like American Indians and armed with guns, axe handles and iron bars, today attacked a payroll car and its police escort and escaped with $89,600. Four automobiles were wrecked in the wild attack.

Three police in the escorting patrol car were injured. One had serious head injuries but the other two were able to leave the hospital after treatment. Also injured were the five employes of a building contractor in the car carrying the payroll and the driver of a steam roller who tried to block one of the getaway cars. Police captured one man. He was carrying a loaded revolver but apparently had made no attempt to use it.

About 10 men, wearing stocking masks, carried out the raid with split second timing at 10 a.m. in north London.

"It was just like a battle field," said road laborer Fred Nutt, 22. "The gang went berserk. They screamed as if they were red Indians yelling war cries."

The payroll car, followed by the patrol car, was rounding a corner when a bandit car crashed into its front. Another bandit car drove into the police car, which crashed into the back of the payroll car. "The gang seemed to rush all over the place hurling their truncheons and raining blows on the occupants of both cars," said Nutt.

All but one of the gang escaped in two other cars, leaving the policemen bleeding on the ground.

President Signs School Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill providing money for the new school aid program and called on local officials and teachers to translate "the vision of this law into the vitality of our country's education system."

As he signed the bill providing over $1 billion for federal aid to elementary and secondary schools, Johnson said the federal government could not do the job alone.

"The main task now lies with the local school boards, with the parents and teachers, with the state school superintendents and the state education commissioners," Johnson said.

"To you, I say: Act now. Get your plans made. Open your schools to the promise of these new programs."

Doctor's Value $1.5 Million, Ex-Student Says

SAN JOSE (AP) — An ex-student who says he was flunked out unfairly has sued Stanford University Medical School for $1.5 million damages.

L. Jack Whitney contended Wednesday in a suit filed in Santa Clara County Superior Court it would cost him that not to become a doctor.

The student asked for reinstatement as an alternative to damages. He also asked $100,000 punitive damages from a professor whom he says flunked him unfairly in a course during the 1963-64 winter quarter.

He said the faculty committee which denied his application for reinstatement discriminated against him and deprived him of "due process of law."

Public and private debt is now $1.172 trillion.

Stinson Beach Fire Protection District commissioners will make a field trip at 5 p.. tomorrow to look at Laurel Street with the idea of possibly asking that Laurel be opened for use as a fire trail or emergency road to Panoramic Highway.

Preliminary plans for an addition to the firehouse were approved by commissioners last night, Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, assistant secretary, reported.

Rifle Stolen

City Official's Residence Argued By Radio Panel—No Conclusion

Four radio speakers argued to a standstill today on whether a city manager or administrator should be required to live within the city limits.

They spoke on Kitty Oppenheimer's "Marin Sounding Board" program on radio station KTIM. The discussion will be re-broadcast from a recording on Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

San Anselmo City Councilman Cedric E. Clute and Valmar A. Schaaf, a civil engineer living in San Anselmo, insisted that a city manager should be given leeway in picking his home.

Mrs. John West, vice president of the San Anselmo Homes Assn., and Mill Valley City Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks said they prefer to have a city manager live within the city.

"I don't think anyone should be required to live in the city," said Clute. "It's entirely up to the individual." However, Clute agreed that city councilmen, who are elected by the people, should live in the city.

Clute cited the difficulties of finding housing because of rapid population growth. He said city boundaries are undefined and strict residence requirement would serve no useful purpose.

Schaaf made these points:

1. A city manager administers but does not set policy. Many of them move on to other jobs after a relatively short time.

2. A city manager might have preference for schools for his children or climate better suited for his family's health.

3. Living within the city boundaries does not necessarily mean better identification with the city.

4. Living in the city may sometimes have disadvantages. A city manager may develop strong feelings or get pressures from neighbors contrary to the policy of the city council.

Mrs. West said she feels a city manager or administrator should be affected by the decisions he makes.

"If a disaster occurred during commute hours, San Anselmo would have to get along without him for hours," she declared, referring to City Administrator Douglas Flautt's residence in the Terra Linda section of San Rafael.

She said city officials down to the department head level should live in the city. Public resentment in San Anselmo over the city administrator's living in Terra Linda developed because the man responsible for administering the ordinances was himself disobeying the residency requirement, said Mrs. West.

Sheeks listed these reasons for having the city manager live in the city:

1. Living in makes for quicker identification with the city. Paying city taxes and driving over city streets makes him immediately aware of what the residents face.

2. In case of disasters, the city manager should be immediately available to take charge.

"Wouldn't it be like a father leaving home and taking a hotel room?"

Warrant Out In Perjury Allegations

A warrant for arrest of an 18-year-old Marinwood youth, Michael West, charged with perjury in two preliminary hearings in Marin Municipal Court, has been issued by the district attorney's office.

The complaint alleges that on April 30 and May 7 the youth, of 254 Adobestone Court, falsely testified as a witness in examinations of Thomas Dean Scahill, 21, charged with disposing of a stolen auto transmission with intent to defraud an insurance company.

Scahill, of 131 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, was found guilty by a Marin Superior Court jury Sept. 3. Sentencing is scheduled on Nov. 2.

Leonard Shaw, assistant district attorney, said West falsely testified at both preliminary hearings that neither he nor Scahill was near the auto—owned by Gregory Lamb, 18, of 2242 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax—and that neither had been at White's Hill, alleged site of the transaction, on Feb. 27 when the offense occured.

Charges Fly, More Answers In Dispute

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney today explained away another of Albert R. Borden's allegations against the Gallinas Village Community Services District, but Borden said he was far from satisfied.

Borden leveled a series of charges against the district. A complicated mix-up in election of directors was explained by Maloney yesterday.

Among Borden's charges was one that directors had misused public funds.

Maloney said today this evidently referred to district expenditure for sanitary facilities installed for the Little League on school grounds outside the district boundaries. He was not sure what school or when.

District director Alyce Durenberger said today that about $200 was contributed by the district toward an outbuilding for the Little League at Santa Venetia Junior Hikgh School.

Maloney said there is no legal ban on spending money outside the limits of the district if the expenditure benefits district residents.

Borden, who declined again today to site specifics on his charges, said this was only one of the things he was referring to. "The surface has hardly been scratched," he said.

Juvenile Court To Get Girl's Marijuana Case

Candace Haseman, 19, scheduled for judgment today in Marin Superior Court on two counts of marijuana sales, was instead referred by Judge Thomas F. Keating to juvenile court for handling of her case there.

The judge, commenting on the defendant's petition for the minor's court, noted that persons under 21 years of age are eligible—providing juvenile court accepts them — and that Miss Haseman is "undoubtedly a case" for that court because of her "unsophistication."

Persons under 18 years automatically go to juvenile court.

The girl, formerly of Sausalito and now living with relatives in Phoenix, Ariz., was one of 11 adults arrested in a roundup of alleged users and sellers of marijuana in southern Marin County last June 4.

Last Aug. 31 she became the first suspect to plead guilty, admitting in Superior Court to one of two counts of selling marijuana. The second count was then dismissed on recommendation of the district attorney's office.

However, Leonard Shaw, assistant district attorney, said today following the referral that the second count presumably will be again effective.

Just prior to the expected judgment, he opposed a probation department recommendation of two years probation, asking in addition a 60-day county jail sentence as a term of any probation.

He cited the alleged gravity of the sales, the first on April 4 for marijuana worth $120, and the second a kilo of the weed for which he said she received $200.

The juvenile court referral may conceivably affect three other suspects, all under 21 years of age. They are Ira Lewis Edwards, 19, of Marin City, charged with one count of a sale; Donald Edward Fleischer, 20, Sausalito, two counts of sales and one of possession; and Harry Ronald Krieger, 20, Mill Valley, one charge of possession, but whose case has already been referred to juvenile court for possible acceptance.

Judge Keating indicated that individual cases will be handled on their own merits, depending on defendants' records and other factors.

Watts Insurance Problems Slight

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Out of 100,000 insurable properties in the Watts riot area and an estimated 2,500 separate losses totaling more than $44 million, only 13 cases have not been settled, Stafford R. Grady, state insurance commissioner, announced.

In a report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Grady said only 32 cases resulted in any type of problem concerning cancellation or non-renewal of insurance coverage. He said 19 of these 32 cases already had been placed satisfactorily through the operation of the insurance committee of the industry.

Grady said the pending 13 cases were being handled expeditiously and no problems were anticipated. Furthermore, he said, none of the cases reported to his office had been found to be uninsurable.

Double-Feature Trials On Attack, Shooting Cases

O'Neal's 19-year-old daughter, Shirley, was the first witness yesterday as the five youths went on trial for rape and aiding and abetting rape.

Charged with the actual assault are George Ulatowski, 18, of Northridge; Ford Wood, 20 of Northridge, and Matthew, 20, of Chatsworth.

Wood's brother, Ronald, 21, and Eric Forrest, 19, of Reseda, are charged with three counts of aiding and abetting.

The girl described how she was lured into Ulatowski's house June 29 on the pretext that his uncle would buy a cookbook she was selling to raise money for college.

As she testified her father was being cross-examined in a nearby courtroom, where he is charged with shooting a youth he mistook for one of his daughter's assailants.

Eagles usually return to the same nest year after year, rebuilding and adding material to it. One famous nest in Ohio served as an eagle home for 36 years. It measured 12 feet in depth and 8½ feet across the top. When it finally fell to the ground it was estimated to contain two tons of sticks.

Christopher Prescribes Redwood Empire Action

SANTA ROSA (UPI)— Residents of California's north coast must anticipate the problems of their region and prepare for them, according to former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher.

He told the opening session of the 45th annual convention of the Redwood Empire Assn. yesterday that the key to progress for the region was "unity of action" to maintain a sound economic climate while at the same time preserving "the God-given beauty which has blessed this area."

Christopher, frequently mentioned as a Republican gubernatorial candidate, urged the association to take heed of President Johnson's "See America First" campaign and take full advantage of the opportunity to tell people about the Redwood Empire.

"We must continue to improve our highway facilities," he said, and "encourage the improvement of our visitor accommodations and create competitive convention facilities."

Today's session was highlighted with a panel discussion on the current redwood parks controversy. REA President J. Dwight O'Dell said the panel included representatives of conservation groups, the lumber industry and state and federal government.

Youth Dance

The Mill Valley Youth Council will hold a dance tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the community and youth center to music of a band headed by Butch Engle. It is for members and their guests only.

Alleged Stabber Goes To Court

Mrs. Valarie Prince, 36, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday following preliminary hearing on a charge of stabbing her sweetheart during an argument last July in her home at 115 King Street, Larkspur.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court held the hearing. Superior Court last week ordered the victim, Edgar Woodrome Blackburn, 39, of 33 Montecito Drive, Corte Madera, to respond to questions in the preliminary examination. However, Blackburn had not been subpoenaed for yesterday's testimony and the prosecution proceeded without him.

WAITING TO FLEE — Two South Vietnamese youngsters wait for their mother to finish gathering personal belongings so they can flee from their home in Viet Cong-dominated An Kho valley under protection of United States 101st Airborne Division paratroopers during a search and destroy mission Saturday. The youngsters will ride in their baskets, suspended from a pole on their mother's shoulders.

BURDEN OF WAR — A tiny Vietnamese boy clings to an adult's back as they flee smoking ruins of an An Kho valley hamlet which South Vietnamese and U.S. paratroopers captured during a drive to root out Viet Cong guerillas over the weekend. The troops rest around the wrecked building. (AP Wirephotos)

U.S. Soldiers Besiege Red Fortifications In Hot Battle

BIEN HOA, Viet Nam (AP) — A company of the U.S. Army's 1st Infantry Division — the Big Red 1 — assaulted a seemingly impregnable Viet Cong bunker system today in a bloody fight less than 40 miles northwest of Saigon.

At least 12 Americans were wounded.

The brunt of the fighting was borne by two platoons of Alpha Company, 2nd Battalion, 16th Infantry Regiment, in the encounter that began shortly after noon.

S.Sgt. Frank Champlin of the 1st Platoon said:

"I saw some bunkers in Korea, but I've never seen anything like these. In Korea, you could see them on the sides of the hills and go after them. But this one was dug in and camouflaged so well that we couldn't see what we were doing."

Champlin was lying flat on the ground to avoid heavy sniper fire as he awaited a medical evacuation helicopter. He had been shot in the foot.

Champlin, from Marina, Calif., said: "I didn't want to leave. I thought I'd be okay, because this is nothing more than a scratch but the foot started to swell and I couldn't get around on it."

The Big Red 1 had captured a Viet Cong deserter earlier this week and he led Alpha Company right to the bunker system. The deserter tried to talk the inhabitants of the system — estimated by officers at platoon-size—into surrendering. They replied with a blast of automatic weapons fire.

The Viet Cong had an anti-personnel mine field set up in front of their fortification. The first U.S. casualties occurred as Viet Cong touched off the mines electrically.

Another attack was driven back by withering fire from the concealed bunkers. A third charge met the same fate.

Alpha company called for a flamethrower and it was brought up by helicopter.

Pvt. Wayne Beck of Rolla, Mo., strapped the flame thrower on his back and the fourth attack was sent in. The infantrymen set up thundering blasts of covering fire — which was returned by Viet Cong in the bunkers and some snipers in the area.

Champlin described what happened then:

"Beck—he's my boy—got to within 20 meters of the bunker when he was hit in the face and chest by a mine and shot in the leg by a bullet. It knocked him down but he still gave 'em a blast from the flame thrower."

Beck's comrades dragged him away and called for the medics. At the same time several other U.S. soldiers were shot.

The Infantry called for air help. The soldiers pulled back and Air Force Skyraiders divebombed the bunker with 750-pound bombs, napalm and machine gun fire. The heavy stuff fell only about 50 yards in front of the infantrymen, hiding behind a low ridge.

As the troops pulled back from the bunkers to avoid being hit by the air strikes, they came under heavy sniper fire and a vicious fire fight took place. But the snipers finally fell silent.

South Vietnamese Execute Anti-American Paraders

SAIGON (UPI) — A South Vietnamese firing squad executed three anti-American demonstrators on a darkened soccer field in Da Nang last night.

The action was seen as a grim warning to Viet Cong or neutralist sympathizers. The condemned had called for a halt to American air raids in South Viet Nam during a demonstration last Monday that was so small few were even aware of it.

The triple execution in Da Nang was the first since June 22, when a Communist terrorist named Tran Van Dang was shot to death in the Saigon marketplace for his part in the Viet Cong bombing of the U.S. embassy here.

Two days later the Viet Cong retaliated by executing an American prisoner of war, Army Sgt. Harold G. Bennett of Perryville, Ark. The Communist radio threatened further reprisals if more Viet Cong prisoners were executed.

It is believed that as many as 82 Americans may be in the hands of the Reds.

Legal Strategy Plans In Closed Session

Marin Hospital District directors met in closed session last night with their attorney, Harold E. Riede, to discuss their legal defense against Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman of San Francisco, who has been trying for a year and one-half to get surgical privileges at the hospital.

Terra Linda Teen Room To Open, No Date Set

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District agreed last night to reopen the teen room at the recreation center, but they did not set a date for the opening.

The room was closed and teen-age dances called off two months ago after rowdyism and vandalism at the center.

Jack Brandon, chairman of the board, said about 30 members of the Terra Linda Teen Council were present last night to request opening of the teen room and discuss rules.

Directors heard that the first teen dance since the closure was held Sept. 17 and was a success.

Directors agreed to lower the minimum age from 14 to 13 for the dances. Now teens from 13 to 19 may attend, Brandon said.

Directors learned that the San Rafael Moose Lodge will lend a juke box to the center. This was the result of efforts by Mrs. Pat Mann, Brandon said.

Dr. Daniel C. Beittel of 675 Barberry Lane was named to the board to replace Mrs. Mary Gibson, who resigned last month. Dr. Beittel is a psychiatrist at the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital in San Francisco.

The board scheduled a special meeting for 8 p.m. next Wednesday at the center to discuss budget allocations. Brandon said that the district will receive $4,000 less than expected in taxes on unsecured property.

Sausalito Planners Approve Subdivisions

Sausalito planning commissioners last night approved two subdivision applications for Del Mar Associates, one to allow duplexes on six lots on Marie Street, the other to permit duplexes on 12 lots on the unimproved portion of Cazneau Avenue between Cazneau and Filbert Street.

A hearing on the proposed amendment to the planned unit development section of the zoning ordinance was rest from Oct. 6 to Oct. 13, according to Mrs. Miriam Ansell, planning commission clerk.

Killing Attempt Foiled In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—An alleged attempt to assassinate Premier Moise Tshombe during a football match here Tuesday was foiled by soccer fans, a spokesman for the prime minister said today.

He told a news conference authorities were holding two Congolese men who had been cocking revolvers just as Tshombe's car was leaving the King Baudouin Stadium after a soccer match between the Congo and Liberia.

The two men, who both had admitted their intention of killing Tshombe, were apprehended by people in the crowd and turned over to police, the spokesman said.

Expensive Meat Bought By Chain

POMONA (UPI)— Von-Shopping Bag Markets paid an all-time record $3.55 per pound for a 1,000-pound grand champion Hereford steer last night at the Los Angeles County Fair.

The steer, named Clyde, was raised by John Squires, a student at Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo.

The market chain also set a record for purchase of a grand champion swine by paying $1 a pound, and then purchased the grand champion lamb for $3 per pound.

Water District Grows In Expenses, Revenue

Marin Municipal Water District revenue from sale of water in the last fiscal year was $2,912,479, an increase of $174,557 or nearly six and one-half per cent over the year before.

General Manager William R. Seeger quoted these figures to the district board yesterday in his fourth quarter report for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

Seeger reported that a portion of the increase was the result of a 15 per cent rate hike which went into effect June 1. This year's revenue for June was $60,000 more than last year in the same month.

Operating expenses for the year, he reported, were $1,682,743, and increase of $119,135 or 7.6 per cent over last year.

The district's net income for the fiscal year was $805,407, an increase of $60,610 or 8.1 per cent over the previous year. Capital work, which is financed from the income, amounted to $851,525, Seeger said.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Approved a contract awarded by the City of Mill Valley for improvement of Lomita Drive. The district will share the project to the extent of paying $2,744 for relocation of a water line and $1,000 for excavation.

2. Awarded contracts for purchase of: Alumina sulfate, to Stauffer Chemical Co. at a fee of $41.50 per ton; a portable generator, to E. R. Bacon for $514.80; a tire changing machine, to National Parts for $285.90.

3. Agreed to pay $328 to Alan Toole for a right of way to the district's Strawberry water tank behind the Town and Country shopping center.

The average farm has an investment of $50,000.

Larkspur Planner Session Folds Up

Last night's scheduled workshop meeting of the Larkspur Planning Commission to discuss the Larkspur general plan was canceled for lack of a quorum.

City Clerk Isabelle Moore said commissioners William G. Fleckles and Paul Atkins were the only members present. They waited 30 minutes for the others before cancelling the meeting, she said.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the commission is Tuesday. Mrs. Moore said that at that time the commissioners will probably set Oct. 5 for another workshop.

Coin Club Award

Mrs. F. William Lohse of San Rafael has been presented a plaque by the Marin Coin Club honoring her as club founder and first president, Mrs. Fay Gosser, club member, said today. The club was founded in July of 1962. It meets each third Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Opportunity Act School Goes Into Full Operation

Pre-school activities at Marin City's Manzanita School swung into "full operation" today with a total enrollment of 115 pupils.

Youngsters are mainly from Marin City but come from as far away as Greenbrae and San Francisco.

Pupil breakdown by cities is as follows: Marin City, 57; Sausalito, 29; Forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite, 14; Mill Valley, 8; Tiburon, 4; Greenbrae, 1; Corte Madera, 1, and San Francisco, 1.

Mrs. Beatrice Brown, director said the San Francisco pupil comes to Corte Madera each day where his mother teaches school.

Object of the program, funds for which are provided under the Economic Opportunity Act, is to provide an environment with teachers, materials and equipment geared to give children a "sound foundation" for later, more formal education.

Pupils are split into morning and afternoon groups—8:30 to 11 a.m. and 12:15 to 2:30 p.m.

School enrollment has increased 43 per cent in 10 years.

Bolinas Harbor Refuge Sought By Commission

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners will discuss getting a plan for development of the Bolinas Lagoon as a harbor of refuge at an 8 p.m. meeting today in Stinson Beach Community Center.

Planning consultants who specialize in harbor development plus members of the county's recently-appointed "watch dog committee" are expected to attend, reported Clyde W. King, board vice president.

Bolinas Rod and Boat Club members plan to attend the meeting to ask questions, the prime one being "when will dredging of the channel be started?" However, King said that this is not to be discussed since it is not on the agenda.

Commissioners will consider a lease requested by Bolinas Yacht Club for a piece of land on the lagoon for a club.

Grizzly Bear Attacks Two, Will Be Slain

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PAKK, Wyo. (UPI)—A grizzly bear that attacked two young men from Michigan and Kentucky in Yellowstone National Park is expected to be slain today.

A park spokesman said the animal had been positively identified as a grizzly and "probably will be done away with."

David McAdam, 20, of Birmingham, Mich., and James Young, 21, of Richmond, Ky., were camped at the new Bridge Bay campground near Yellowstone Lake in the central part of the park.

According to park management assistant Jim Godbolt, the bear apparently "pounced" on the tent they were sleeping in at about 6 a.m. Wednesday.

Young had several lacerations on the forehead and neck and multiple lacerations of the trunk and extremities.

Both were hospitalized in Livingston, Mont., but neither was in serious condition, according to Godbolt.

McAdam managed to escape from the tent after the rude awakening and run to their car which was parked nearby.

"The bear was on the tent with Young inside," Godbolt said.

He said McAdam began throwing items from the car and making noise in an attempt to frighten the beast.

"But the bear apparently did not scare too easily," Godbolt said.

He said finally McAdam took some gasoline from a nearby can and threw it on the bear.

"This did frighten him away," Godbolt said, "and together they drove to the nearby Lake ranger station."

The youths were administered first aid at the ranger shation at 6:30 a.m. and then taken to Memorial Hospital in Livingston.

Horstmeyer Heads Greenbrae Association

An article in yesterday's Independent-Journal incorrectly identified Earl J. Murphy as president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. Murphy is a director of the association. President is Arend L. Horstmeyer Jr.

Horstmeyer said today that the association's Halloween Frolic on Oct. 31 will be at Greenbrae School, not Adaline E. Kent School.

EXPENSIVE TRIM — When film actor George Peppard insisted that he needed a haircut from none other than Beverly Hills hair stylist Jay Seabring, the Californian went all the way to Dublin, Ireland, where Peppard is working in "The Blue Max." The bill: $2,500, with nothing said about the tip.

Viet Nam Deaths Now Over 1,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. military deaths from all causes in Viet Nam topped the 1,000 mark last week, the Defense Department reported today.

Deaths attributed to hostile action since Jan. 1, 1961 reached 699, an increase of 27 over the previous week.

Car Strikes Pole, Cuts Novato Power

An airman was slightly injured and electric power to about 60 homes was cut off when a car hit a power line brace pole and snapped two high voltage lines west of Stafford Dam in North Marin at 12:04 a.m. today.

The driver, A/2c Gary P. Collins, 18, of the 78th Field Maintenance Squadron, who lives in barracks at Hamilton Air Force Base, was treated at the base hospital for a cut lip. His passenger, A/2c Jerry Williams, who also lives on the base, was uninjured.

The California Highway Patrol said Collins was eastbound on Novato Boulevard at about 50 miles per hour when his brakes failed.

Short-circuting wires burned out four transformers in the area, reported Lee C. Wise, Novato manager for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. About 60 customers in the area were left without power until transformers were replaced at mid-day today.

The crash also started a grass fire which was extinguished by the Novato Fire Department.

Space Equipment Tests In Sierra

RENO (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will spend 10 days in the Sierra testing special instruments being developed for exploring the geology of planetary bodies from orbiting spacecraft.

Test flights will be run each day from Reno, starting Friday. Results will be used for future manned space flights.

NASA said the instruments tested will be able to determine rock types and earth structures from the air when they are perfected.

The three sites in the California Sierra being used in the tests are Bucks Lake, near Quincy; Emigrant Lake, south of Sonora Pass, and the Mono craters, south of Lee Vining.

Market Closes Irregularly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed irregularly lower today. Final dealings were heavy.

The ticker tape lagged again near the close, after falling behind as much as 12 minutes at midsession.

The market was a little higher at the start, in what some brokers called a "buying climax" to the long upswing, then there were waves of selling and the early gains were erased.

Many recent gainers among color television set makers, computer and office equipment stocks, airlines and others were casualties.

Xerox dropped half a dozen points but SCM Corp. clung to the upside although trimming tis best price.

Zenith lost 3, United Aircraft 2, U.S. Smelting and Du Pont about a point each. General Motors dropped a fraction.

Ford, Chrysger, Radio Corp. and American Telephone were fractional gainers.

Volume for the day was estimated at 10 million shares compared with 8.31 million yesterday. This year's biggest day was 10.49 million shares on June 29.

Here was the picture near the close:

A 12-minute lag in the newly installed high-speed ticker tape —900 characters a minute as against only 500 previously—was the measure of the intensity of the trading. The new tickers are seldom late.

A spurt in the morning was called "a buying climax" by the analyst for one big brokerage house who regarded the session as a temporary blowing-off of steam in what looks like a strongly rising trend.

Many of the color-television issues, strong yesterday, tripped on profit taking. Zenith and Magnavox were off a point or more, Motorola more than 2. Radio Corp., very active, just about held even.

A 5-point decline by Xerox was balanced by further strength in SCM Corp. which advanced about 2 points, making another play to become the most-active stock. SCM has introduced an office copying machine that competes with Xerox.

Addressograph, also in office copying machines, fell about a point in heavy profit taking.

A number of airlines were sold by traders. Northwest Airlines lost more than 2, Eastern about a point, United and American fractions.

Du Pont fell 2, United Aircraft, Zenith, Goodyear and Schering about a point each.

General Motors, which announced some price changes, was down fractionally. GM said prices of 1966 model cars will be lower than the prices of "similarly equipped" 1965 models. Ford and Chrysler rose about 1 each.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher in heavy trading.

Kaiser Raises Product Prices

OAKLAND — Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. said today that it is selectively increasing prices on a limited number of electrical conductor products, effective today.

The price increases are in a range of 7-12 per cent and principally affect cross-linked polyethylene and neoprene weatherproof and service drop electrical conductors, and No. 6 bare electrical conductor.

"Prices of these products have been severely depressed for some time," the company said, "and the selective restorations bring the prices into more realistic relationship with those of other electrical conductor products."

Jet Skimmer Test Reported Going Well

SAN FRANCISCO—"Behaving beautifully . . . fulfilling all our expectations."

That's the 30 day report on the revolutionary new jet skimmers now performing on San Francisco Bay. According to a statement by John Cunningham, vice president in charge of jet skimmer operations for SFO Helicopter Airlines, the air cushion vehicles are performing as expected and are earning passenger acceptance.

Since their Aug. 10 inaugural, according to Cunningham, the two 15 passenger craft have been averaging 60 per cent passenger capacity on the run between the Oakland and San Francisco airports.

The delayed downtown San Francisco jet skimmer terminal at Pier 52 will open Oct. 1, he continued. This additional stop will add four trips to the current jet skimmer schedule of six.

Passenger reaction cards distributed by the University of California institute of transportaiton and traffic engineering show the majority of passengers have favorable reactions to the craft, Cunningham continued.

The jet skimmer hovers over the surface of water or land on a four foot cushion of air created by a horizontally mounted fan.

Safeway Tallies Increased Sales

OAKLAND — Safeway Stores, Inc., has announced sales for the first 36 weeks this year were 6.6 per cent ahead of the comparable period last year.

For the 36 weeks ended Sept. 11 sales totaled $2,018,742,556 as against $1,894,563,427 for the comparable 1964 period.

There were 2,128 stores in operation as of Sept. 11 this year in comparison to 2,081 as of Sept. 12, 1964.

NEW IMPERIAL HAS COMFORT AND LUXURY

Chrysler's top of the line Imperial for 1966 offers individually adjustable front seats and a new 440-cubic inch V-8 engine as well as external styling changes. Shown here is the Crown four-door hardtop built on a 129-inch wheelbase and with an overall length of 228.8 inches. Imperials will be sold in Marin at Doug Dicker Chrysler-Plymouth, San Rafael and Walker Chrysler-Plymouth, Mill Valley beginning Sept. 30.

Conversion Of Wilshire Stations To Be Rapid, Manager Declares

Conversion of Wilshire service stations in this area to the parent Gulf Oil Corp. operation Oct. 1 will be rapid, according to Phil C. Harvey, sales manager of the San Francisco district — which is headquartered not in San Francisco but in San Rafael.

Harvey

Harvey said the changeover from Wilshire's blue and white signature to Gulf's round, blue-white - orange trade mark among the district's 120 dealer-operated stations will be accomplished painlessly in two or three days time. The district covers coast counties north from Santa Clara County to the Oregon border. Besides the 120 stations it also has within its boundaries four wholesale jobbers and a terminal in Petaluma.

Harvey, who has been with the company 13 years, will occupy the same position with Gulf that he has with Wilshire. He is a resident of Santa Rosa.

San Rafael has been district headquarters for more than two years. Previously the office was in San Francisco for five years and before that in Santa Rosa. It employs five outside salesmen.

Marin service stations whose names are due to be changed are Buggey's Wilshire Service, 374 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley; Hank's Wilshire Service, 700 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo; J and S Wilshire Service, 1320 Second Street, San Rafael and the Wilshire station at 899 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael. A new station is soon to go up at Francisco and Bellam Boulevards.

Product changes will be Wilshire premium gasoline to Gulf "Premium D;" Wilshire half-and-half to Gulf half-and-half; Wilshire regular to "Gulftane." Lubricating oils will be the Gulfpride label. Stations will honor Gulf national credit cards.

Chapman

Brown

DONALD W. CHAPMAN JR. of Kentfield has returned as an officer to Crocker-Citizens National Bank after an association of about 21 months with Redwood National Bank. He will serve as assistant vice president in the San Rafael main office where he began his career in 1951. It was then First National Bank of San Rafael. He was manager of the Kentfield office 1956-58 and subsequently managed the Tiburon-Belvedere office until he changed to Redwood.

NEW ARRIVAL in Marin is Campbell M. Brown, who has been made advertising officer in Bank of America's San Francisco head office. He joins the staff after seven years as president and co-owner of Finlayson-Brown Advertising in his native Salt Lake City. Brown will be responsible for promoting BankAmericard, the bank's credit card system. He, his wife and three children have moved to Lucas Valley.

AT MONDAY'S ROTARY CLUB luncheon meeting at Dominic's San Rafael there will be a panel discussion on profit sharing and pension plans for small corporations and businessmen.

Panelists are Jess France Jr. resident manager of York Securities Corp., San Rafael; Robert Soderblum, partner in Dalton, Graupner and Barber, San Rafael certified public accountants; and Harold Matscheck of Mill Valley, vice president of J. D. Nelson Associates, San Francisco.

Dodgers Win; N. L. Race Heading For A Photo Finish

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers have a new streak going—

Maury Wills.

He exploded out of a drastic base-stealing slowdown last night and ran the Dodgers a step nearer the National League lead.

Wills, who had stolen only two bases in 19 previous games this month, stole three and scored after each theft — climaxing his efforts by carrying across the winning run on Lou Johnson's 11th-inning single as the Dodgers overcame the Milwaukee Braves 7-6.

Wills' base-stealing streak — in the Braves' farewell to Milwaukee — helped the Dodgers extend their winning streak to six and climb to within two games of the San Francisco Giants, who were bombed by Cincinnati 7-1. The third-place Reds' second straight decision over the front-runners left them 3½ games back of San Francisco.

Wills seemed certain to break his major league record of 104 steals as the season went into its final two months, with 25 thefts in July giving him 72. But he added only 11 in August, then two this month — until his three key ones against the Braves. They pushed his total to 88.

The whippet-like shortstop led off the game with a single, stole second, went to third on Jim Gilliam's hit and scored on Willie Davis' infield out.

With 23-game winner Sandy Koufax pitching for the Dodgers, a 1-0 lead looked good. But the brilliant left-hander was off form.

Frank Bolling tagged him for a grand slam homer in the second, Mack Jones made it 5-1 with a homer in the third, and Gene Oliver followed with a home run off reliever Howie Reed.

Jim Lefebvre rapped a two-run Dodger homer in the fourth, and they battled back to a tie with three in the fifth. Wills hit into a force play, but again stole second. He eventually scored from second on Davis' single, an infield out brought in another run, and a single by Lefebvre evened the score.

It stayed that way until the 11th, when Wills beat out a bunt with one out, stole second, and brought in the tie-breaker on Johnson's two-out single.

Both the Giants and Dodgers return home to finish out the season — each with 10 games against Cincinnati, Milwaukee and St. Louis.

In other N. L. games—Pittsburgh won its sixth straight, scoring four unearned runs for a 6-2 victory over the New York Mets; and rookie Larry Jaster pitched a four-hitter in his first big league start and Curt Flood hit two homers as St. Louis trimmed Houston 4-1. Philadelphia at Chicago was rained out.

In the American League — Baltimore beat Minnesota again, 5-2, Chicago edged Detroit 2-1, Cleveland knocked off the New York Yankees 4-3, Washington whipped Kansas City 8-2, and California took two from Boston, 10-1 and 2-0.

Three Met errors helped the Pirates to their four unearned runs, in the fifth inning — with all four scoring on the same play. Ed Kranepool's bobble of pitcher Bob Friend's grounder with one out, then a walk and Roberto Clemente's single after two were out filled the bases.

Donn Clendenon's single drove in two runs. Clemente also came in when Charlie Smith missed a throw to third, and Clendenon scored when Met pitcher Tug McGraw threw wildly trying to get him at third.

Flood batted in three Cardinal runs with his homers, while the 21-year-old Jaster held the Astros scoreless on two hits until the ninth, when they got their run on Jim Wynn's double and Bob Aspromonte's single.

Giants Dig In, Vow Comeback In Home Stretch

ON TO VICTORY

As throw from catcher Tom Haller sails into centerfield, Reds' Tom Harper slides safely into second base in fourth inning of last night's 7-1 win over Giants. Harper got up and continued around bases to score when Willie Mays erred the ball in centerfield. Dick Schofield is Giant covering on this play. (UPI Telephoto)

Two Losses Cut Lead; 10 To Go

By JOE REICHLER

CINCINNATI (AP) — "What do you want me to do, cry?"

This was Manager Herman Franks' booming retort when asked for his reaction to the San Francisco Giants' second straight loss — a resounding 7-1 trouncing at the hands of the third-pace Cincinnati Reds last night.

"Shucks, if the man upstairs wants to tighten it up," growled the florid-faced Franks, "why it's all right with me."

The National League pennant race, reaching the final 10 days of the campaign, could hardly be any tighter. The second-place Los Angeles Dodgers, overcoming an early 6-1 deficit, battled back to defeat the Braves at Milwaukee 7-6 in 11 innings.

The victory narrowed the Giants' first place margin to two games. The Reds, still refusing to be counted out, were 3½ games off the pace.

The news of the Dodgers' comeback victory, coming about 45 minutes after the Giants' defeat, failed to disturb Franks' outward calm.

"I think we go better when it's tight," he barked, loud enough for his players to hear. "We've fallen back 10 times before and we always regrouped. This is the last time we're falling back. That's a promise. We will retrench and dig in and start to go again Friday."

The Giants, resting today, renew warfare tomorrow night with a three-game series against the Braves at San Francisco. The Dodgers open a three-game series with the Cardinals at Los Angeles the same day. The Reds, idle until Saturday, will meet the Astros in Houston over the weekend.

Sammy Ellis stopped the Giants cold with a seven-hitter as the Reds pounded Juan Marichal, the Giants' 22-game winner, off the mound with a home run barrage. Frank Robinson slammed a three-run homer, Johnny Edwards connected with a two-run blow and Leo Cardenas hit the other four-bagger to account for six of the Reds' seven runs.

It was the 21st victory for the 24-year-old Ellis, who has lost only nine games.

"We're definitely in it now," said Dick Sisler, the Reds' manager.

"We still got our work cut out for us, but at least we're back within striking distance."

In answer to a question, Sisler said he detected no sign of the Giants' cracking under the pressure, but added:

"The pressure should be getting to them now. It can come awfully quick."

What made the Giants' defeat especially galling was the rough treatment of Marichal, who had been primed for this game. Franks had twisted his pitching rotation so as to give Juan an extra day's rest.

Marichal has been booed, and bombed since the John Roseboro incident when the Giants' pitcher slugged the Dodgers' catcher on the head with a bat. While his record since the eight-game suspension that followed is three victories and three defeats, Juan has been tagged for 18 runs and eight home runs in the 44 innings he's pitched.

Open Letter To 'Dear Cousins': Nice To Hear From You, But . . .

Dear Cousins:

My, but it was wonderful receiving your letters and phone calls the other day. It seems to me that the last time I heard from all of you was around this time of the year in 1962. A funny coincidence, the Giants won the pennant that year, just like they seem to be doing this year.

It was wonderful of you to compliment me on my good looks. Such flattering remarks made me blush. Also, it was sweet of you to inquire about my health. I'm feeling fine, thank you. Yes, the family is fine, too.

It was awfully kind of you to invite us over for the holidays. And those generous offers of financial assistance were very thoughtful, but I've been doing okay lately now that Mr. Brown has given me a new paper route.

Well, I guess I'll close for now, dear long-lost cousins. Thanks again for all your generous thoughts and offers.

And, oh, before I forget: About those World Series tickets you requested. I'm awful sorry, but I just don't have any pull at Candlestick.

Jim

I'M SURE I heard correctly last night when Russ Hodges' voice said over my transistor that Giant shortstop Dick Schofield ". . . reaches up in the mud" to catch a pop fly. My, but it WAS muddy in Cincinnati last night.

AT HIS testimonial dinner the other night ex-middleweight champ Fred Apostoli told about bumping into a Naval security officer one night during World War II. When Apostoli attempted to get past the guard, the latter snapped: "Listen, bud, don't get funny with me—I'm a professional fighter."

Apostoli: "Oh, yea, what's your name?"

When the guard told him his name, Freddie retaliated: "Sure, I remember you. I knocked you out in three rounds at Holyoke, Mass."

Guard: "Oh, yea? What's YOUR name?"

Fred: "Hey, how many times you been knocked out in Holyoke?"

AFTER HIS first tour of the San Geronimo Golf Course the other day, Art Schallock of San Rafael was asked how he found the new links. "Well," he grinned, "I just drove west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard . . ."

Old Yankee pitchers never die, they just become wise acres. Incidentally, Schallock is public relations representative for Title Insurance and Trust Co. Like the Yankees did several years ago, the San Rafael firm hired him for title insurance, I trust.

BEST SCORE to date at the new San Geronimo course: A one-over-par 73 by Father Leonard Scannell. Bob Rosburg, the well-known pro and a director of Marin's newest links, had a 74.

Hazeltine Out For 6 Weeks

The San Francisco 49ers' buoyed up hopes to increase their National Football League fortunes in 1965 were dealt a blow yesterday when they learned veteran linebacker Matt Hazeltine will be out for at least six weeks.

Hazeltine went into a hospital where he will undergo surgery to repair torn cartilege in his right knee.

It was injured in the final preseason game against the Los Angeles Rams. Hazeltine did not play Sunday as the 49ers beat the Chicago Bears 52-24.

Colchico suffered a ruptured Achilles tendon and will be out for the year.

OTHER INJURIES

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore and Green Bay head into Sunday's important National Football League games with a full cast in top physical condition but most of the NFL teams will be missing key men.

Cleveland expects Clifton McNeil, the split end sub for injured Paul Warfield, to be ready to face St. Louis but linebacker Galen Fiss is extremely doubtful because of a pulled calf muscle.

The Cards will be without linebacker Larry Stallings and kickoff return specialist Abe Woodson and won't know until later if fullback Joe Childress' pulled stomach muscle has healed.

Minnesota missed offensive tackle Grady Alerman last week and he again is a doubtful starter against Detroit. Hal Bedsole, the Vikings' tight end who suffered a knee strain against Baltimore, is ready.

Dallas expects to get back Mike Connelly, regular guard, but guard Bob Isbell still is out. Tackle Ralph Neely and kicker Danny Villanueva, injured in last week's game with New York, are expected to play.

BEARS HURTIN'

The Chicago Bears' quarterback Bill Wade, tight end Mike Ditka and flanker Johnny Morris are not up to par but will play at Los Angeles in a game originally set for Saturday night but rescheduled for Sunday. The Rams probably will be without Lamar Lundy, a regular defensive end who underwent minor surgery, and will miss split end Bucky Pope and rookie halfback Ben McGee and defensive back Clancy Williams.

Pittsburgh, already hard hit by misfortunes, has lost John Henry Johnson for five or six weeks with a knee injury and will be without defensive end Ben McGee and defensive back Bob Sherman for the game with San Francisco. Center Art Hunter also is very doubtful.

TAM PLAYS TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Another Big Weekend For Marin Preps—Seven Games

The seven teams in the Marin Athletic League get back to action this weekend, final tune-up for the opening of league games. And if they follow the form of last weekend, Marin should have its share of winners.

Jumping off to a tremendous start, MAL teams won six of seven opening games last weekend. and that one loss was by only one point. Drake, the defending champ, was nipped by Petaluma, 13-12.

Three games are at "home" and four on the road this weekend. Tamaplais, 14-12 victory over Riordan last time, starts this round off tomorrow at Skyline High in Oakland, 3:15 p.m.

Then tomorrow night, Redwood hosts DeAnza (Richmond) at Kentfield, Terra Linda takes on Ukiah at San Rafael High School, and Novato travels to Petaluma, all three games starting at 8 o'clock.

Saturday, Drake takes on Analy of Sebastopol in College of Marin Stadium, Kentfield, the only home game of the day, at 2 p.m. Other Saturday games are San Rafael vs. Montgomery in Santa Rosa, 8 p.m., and Marin Catholic at Oakland Tech., 2 p.m.

Redwood, Terra Linda and Novato all scored shutouts over Diablo Valley Athletic League foes last weekend. Redwood tipped Mount Diablo 6-0, Terra Linda thumped Clayton Valley 19-0, and Novato drubbed College Park 20-0. In other opening round games, San Rafael blanked McClymonds of Oakland 8-0 and Marin Catholic surprised Albany 12-6.

Marin prep fans will be anxiously awaiting the outcome of the Novato-Petaluma game, since the Trojans nipped Drake last week. The Pirates of Drake and Hornets of Novato were picked as co-favorites by league coaches prior to the start of the season. Since the two teams play against the same oppenent on back-to-back weeks, score comparisons will be made, although that usually means little, especially with practice games.

Tam coach Willie Hector has been drilling his offense to run against Skyline's defensive formation which features a roaming linebacker. Tam's defense has been working against a make believe Skyline offense, wing-T with backs in I formation.

"I've scouted Skyline," said Hector, "and they do a lot of running like Riordan. Our boys are up for the game and we feel we can make it two in a row." Tam came out of the opener with no serious injuries.

Leading Tam's running game are sophomore Mike Fowler and junior Kirk Sparks, the two running backs in Tam's spread offense. Fowler, who just turned 15 last month, gained 168 yards against Riordan. Still with a lot of growing to do, Fowler stands 5-11 and weighs 175 pounds.

"He's got good moves and is a real hard runner," said Hector. The new Tam coach said he'll go with the same lineup as last week. "We'll stick with our winning combination."

Completing the weekend prep schedule, Tomales High School hosts Rohnert Park Saturday at 1 p.m., and San Rafael Military Academy travels to Point Arena Saturday at 1:30. The Cadets of SRMA walloped Tomales 31-6 in their opener last Friday.

Braves Bid An Emotional Farewell To Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Braves have said farewell to an era amid an emotional bath that reminded them of the Milwaukee they missed during a dismal and frustrating 1965 season.

For 11 innings against the Los Angeles Dodgers last night, the Milwaukee team was treated like the Braves of old, cheered at every turn by an emotional knot of 12,577 fans who sounded like the 40,000- plus crowds of yesteryear.

It was the final scheduled appearance in Milwaukee for the fifth-place Braves, who plan to migrate to Atlanta next season in search of the fabled riches of the southland.

But the fans who braved 50-degree temperatures to watch the last home game, weren't thinking of 1966. Forgotten was the bitterness that resulted in sullen silence and slender crowds at most of the Braves' Milwaukee games this season.

Instead, it was the memory of the Boston-bred Braves' 13 seasons in Milwaukee that sent up waves of thunderous applause from every occupied corner of the ball park last night.

"It shook the heck out of me," said Eddie Mathews, whom the fans cheered until they were hoarse every time he came to the plate.

"I don't get that way very often," said Mathews, who played for the Braves in each of their 13 seasons in Milwaukee. "It was a typical Milwaukee crowd."

It was the kind of affection the fans used to show the Braves during the Milwaukee honeymoon when tickets for baseball games were scarce and there was no talk about moving the team anywhere.

Frank Bolling was on deck in the second inning when Mathews stepped to the plate and the stadium begin to quiver. "I got cold chills," said the veteran second baseman. "It was a tribute to Mathews and the fans."

After Mathews got the first of his two singles to load the bases, Bolling slugged a Sandy Koufax pitch for a grand slam home run and the cheers again filled the cold night air.

The sounds of farewell did not reach their crescendo until the eighth and ninth innings when Mathews and Hank Aaron came to the plate for what appeared to be the last time.

This time the fans stood and cheered and the ovations went on and on.

For one thing, he said, it just might not be the swan song for the Braves' in Milwaukee. Aaron was alluding to the series of antitrust suits designed to keep the Braves from moving.

But the cheers also got to Aaron, the man who clinched Milwaukee's first pennant in 1957 with a mighty home run. "This had to be the biggest thrill of my career," said Aaron. "Words can't describe the way I felt. I had butterflies all over."

Gene Oliver, cheered lustily after smacking an inside-the-park home run, wasn't about to say goodbye forever. "We aren't out of here yet, let me tell you," he said.

Mathews had one big regret: "I only wish we could have won it."

Cronin Scores A First–Finally

Now that Joseph Edward Cronin, the president of the American League, has made Emmett Ashford the first Negro umpire in the big leagues, I don't see any glaring reason why Joe shouldn't be made commissioner of baseball.

Joe's feat doesn't exactly rank with the Emancipation Proclamation or even the Dred Scott decision but it does indicate Joe is a man to admit his mistakes. Three years ago, when I braced him to find out why Emmett was not in a big league protector and mask, Joe smoothly told me, "Our umpire-in-chief, Cal Hubbard, has been scouting him and says he is weak on balls-and-strikes." "He's been scouting him from the stands?" I asked. "Oh, yes," said Joe. I reckoned that if Cal Hubbard could calls balls-and-strikes from the stands better than Emmett Ashford could from behind the plate that couldn't be prejudice. That could only be glaucoma. So I sat back and waited for Emmett to show up eventually in tin cup and dark glasses.

Later, Baseball decided Emmett was too fast or too slow, or too short or too tall, I forgot which. Emmett began to suspect he was too brown but we quickly put that thought out of our mind. Lincoln put a stop to that kind of thinking, didn't he?

Joe's action the other day put him in the category of a man who is either willing to admit his mistakes or Emmett's eyesight improved or the strike zone has. Or Joe Cronin has. If that be true, he's ready for the commissionership.

Besides, the job doesn't call for much. As chronicled here before, you have to be able to recognize rain right off the bat. Every few years, you have to call a World Series game off. Also, in cases of eclipses of the sun, you have to order the lights turned on. You can see it's a pressure job.

It entails so little, in fact, that, some years ago, when they were casting about for a legal mind to run it, a judge, I recommended Judge Carter. As long as he stayed disappeared. If he turned up and started to meddle in things, they'd tell him to "Get lost." Again, that is.

A commissioner does have other things to do. He has to say, "That's a league matter" from time to time. Or "No comment." There have been times when we all thought the present commissioner should be reported to the Missing Persons Bureau.

I know I am doing Joe a disservice in recommending him for this job. One word from me, proposing Joseph Cronin, and they're liable to name Joseph Schildkraut. Or Joseph Stalin.

But I do believe this: I believe a baseball man should run baseball. I also believe a politician should run politics, a general should run a war, and admiral, a Navy, and a sailor, a ship. I think a cop should run a police department and a wife, a home. I mean, what am I, a Communist or something?

Theg reat Jack Hurley, who definitely was not one, once sair fervently, "God deliver me from amateurs!" Well, Amen.

Most of the ills of the world come from amateurs—dabblers, dilettantes, people who take on too-big jobs because they have no idea of what's involved. I am all for on-the-job training. But not as president of the company. Or the country.

Joe knows baseball. In fact, he will be the first commissioner who was not only actually a ballplayer, but a Hall-Of-Fame ballplayer. Not only that, but, as manager of the Red Sox, he won their only pennant in the last 47 years. If you think that's easy, you don't know the Red Sox.

Joe is a don't-make-a-wave guy, equal parts Irish blarney and bland let's-have-a-drink-and-talk-this-over and have-I-told you-the-one-about? guy. Joe got 2285 hits in his lifetime and he didn't get that triggering on every curve ball that came along. He'll qualify. He's been president of the league six years and, in all that time, nobody stole Yankee Stadium, all the checks cleared, and CBS only owns one franchise in the league. He got to the West Coast with too little too late but Joe is from Boston now and you all know Charlie Einstein's story of the two little old ladies from Boston who motored to San Francisco and someone said, "How did you come?" and they said, "The usual way. Through Brockton."

The American League's thinking comes through Brockton, too, but the hiring of Ashford is the first "first" the American League has had in years. Joe can take his phone off the hook with the best of them. Besides, we've had a judge, a newspaperman and a U. S. Senator as baseball commissioner. Why not a shortstop?

PASS DEFENSE

Hey, Cal! Michigan Has One Weakness

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan showed it lost none of its running power in beating North Carolina, 31-24, last Saturday but an admitted weakness in pass defense turned out to be poorer than anyone expected.

The Wolverines, defending Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions, were expected to work on pass defense—and ball handling—all of this week in preparation for this Saturday's home opener against California.

There's no suitable replacement for All America Bob Timberlake, but with the return of halfbacks Carl Ward and Jim Detwiler, the Wolverines again have the necessary ingredients for a good ground attack.

They rolled up 255 yards against North Carolina with four players, paced by Detwiler's 50, gaining more than 40 yards each.

Detwiler and linebacker Barry Dehlin suffered knee injuries and their availability was somewhat in doubt earlier this week.

Coach Bump Elliott failed to solve his quarterback problem but shuffled Dick Vidmer and Wally Gabler back and forth with much success. He says he will continue the practice until one of them beats out the other for the job.

Vidmer, who pressed Timberlake for the job until he was sidelined with a broken leg, is the better passer. Gabler is a better runner and showed it when he went 31 yards for the first touchdown last week on his very first carry.

Tackle Bill Yearby heads the Wolverines linemen. Yearby,one of the few two-way players on the squad, teams with Tom Mack on offense. Mack, speedy despite his 6-foot-3, 288 pounds, is noted best for his downfield blocking.

Linebacker and captain Tom Cecchini leads a Michigan defensive unit which held North Carolina to 91 yards in the near-90 degree heat at Chapel Hill.

But the weakness in the defensive backfield was brought out by the fact that the Tar Heels quarterback, told to pass on every down if the situation presented itself, set school records for passes attempted (41) and completed (24).

This troubled Elliott more than the five fumble conversions.

Michigan, on the other hand, completed but six of 12 attempts which did not coincide with Elliott's earlier prediction that the Wolverines might pass a bit more this year — experienced ends or not.

Warriors In Battle For Their Jobs

"Ordinarily, 10 days of practice separates the men from the boys," Hannum said, "but this year, I have problems."

He said rookies Rick Barry, Fred Hetzel, Wilbert Frazier and Keith Erickson all looked good. Cotton Nash and John Rudometkin were cut by other clubs last year, but Hannum said they "are playing 50 per cent better than they did last season. This is their last chance to stick in the league and they are fighting like Tigers."

Hannum said fighting was a good word for his club's workouts, since a few right hands were thrown in a recent practice session. The coach called it "a healthy sign that everybody is pulling up his socks and battling to make the squad."

The team will play in an intra-squad game at San Jose City College gym Friday night.

'Local Gal' Is Tahoe Sentimental Choice

Musson, who has piloted Seattle's Miss Bardahl to three straight Gold Cup triumphs and hopes for a fourth next year, likes the idea of qualifying for lanes in the big race.

Musson qualified Miss Bardahl Tuesday at 116.114 mph for Saturday's feature in the Lake Tahoe regatta. He isn't the fastest since Roy Duby piloted Miss U.S. 5 at 119.986.

Purses this season total about $300,000 but sponsors know it takes an initial investment of $150,000 to $200,000 to put a boat in the water.

"We have improved our product four times since 1959 on what we learned in racing," he says.

Two races are left to determine this year's national champion, a goal for Musson—the Tahoe race Saturday and the approaching San Diego event. Musson is leading for the third year in a row and with a boat he didn't think he'd be racing. But a new boat slated to assume the Bardahl name hasn't yet shaken out the bugs.

Casper Opens Defense

At stake in the 72-hole tourney is $45,000, with $7,500 awaiting the winner.

Two other previous champions are in the field. One is Dave Marr, winner in 1961, and the other is big Jack Nicklaus, who doesn't need to earn a Seattle dime to hold his rank as the leading one-season money winner of all time.

Dave Hill of Denver, Colo., led the pros with a 66 in the tune-up round to pick off the top money of $500. Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash., and Paul Bondeson, Duluth, Minn., tied for second at 67.

STEVENS

Seems like salmon trolling in the blue Pacific has weathered the doldrums and the kings are co-operating. Most of the boats out of Caruso's Sausalito Harbor made the grade, with some of them in early on Monday with limits. All nice sized fish, too. For example, the Gina Marie unloaded seven limits, the Marion had the same, while the Lucky Lady boated 16 nice salmon. Fish ran to 32 pounds and the action was hottest in the Middle Grounds. From Lee Anderson's shop in Oakland, Hal Boenner reported the boat Sea Horse with ten salmon to 20 pounds, and the Chinook with 14 salmon to 31 pounds.

SUNDAY WAS a day that will remain in the memory of Mildred Anderson of Castro Valley for a long time. That was the day that she hooked, played and landed a salmon weighing 46 pounds off the Duxbury Reef. Congratulations to the anglerette.

Striper striving in the San Pablo Bay continues slow, but the lads and lassies who worked the waters of the Racoon Strait, the South Tower of the G. G. Bridge, Alcatraz, and adjacent areas, had a field day with limits the order of the day on Monday.

RUMOR HAS IT that some fast and fancy bass fishing was had the past two days in the Point Isable sector, but said rumor was not verified.

Charlie Weimer of South County called by phone to inform me that he and a fishing buddy, Earl Michael, have been collecting catfish in the Delta region as a regular thing. For four weeks (four trips, that is) this pair has limited out with nice fat cats, mostly while fishing out of the Livermore Yacht Harbor spot. But last Thursday, with the wind kicking up the waters, the duo worked a different area. In spite of adverse weather and water conditions Weimer and Michael took 10 cats each off Branan Park.

ANYONE FOR albacore? Chances are good at present. Joe Wun reported that "Stub" Stubblefield left Monterey, out of Frank's Place, at 4 a.m. and came in with four beautiful albacore to 33 pounds.

LITTLE BOY, BIG FISH

Ty Barbour, 10, of 161 Elinor Avenue, Mill Valley, holds 23-pound striped bass he caught recently while trolling in Bolinas Bay with a Hopkins lure on a 20-pound test nylon line. Catch was one of the best entries in annual bass derby to be concluded shortly, though several other larger catches have been registered with Smiley's Bait Shop, Bolinas.

Betty Hodgson bowled games of 207, 194 and 196 for a 597 series in the San Quentin Mixed Fours League to headline the scores from the women. Fay Scott had high game for the women, a 217 on her way to a 561 set in the Ladies 600 Scratch League. Flo Pogue rolled a 215 line and 570 series in the San Quentin Mixed Fours.

NEW TREND FOR OUTDOORSMEN

Hunting Paradise Near Auburn

By JERRY HARRELL

AUBURN (AP)—Hunt pheasants, quail and deer all in the same day, with maybe some bass fishing thrown in?

There are also fish ponds, trap and skeet facilities and jeep roads to take the deer and quail hunters to the back country.

Ray Conway, a Grass Valley man who has been raising pheasants and other game birds for 26 years, is the developer.

The pheasants, which roam 200 acres of grassy meadows crisscrossed by 12 - foot mowed swaths, are planted, but Conway thinks the birds will catch on and natural reproduction will bolster the planted birds.

The quail are natives, but Conway's plan is to keep populations high by "farming" quail. Brush has been cut and stacked for cover, and new brush has been planted in some areas. Small springs have been developed, and water brought in through small ditches to provide watering the way quail seem to prefer it.

This writer hunted the pheasant area with Kirk Duvaney, veteran manager of clubs in the Sacramento Valley, and toured the rest of the area in a utility vehicle.

The two-vehicle party jumped more than 30 deer and hundreds of quail in a swing around the borders. At least eight bucks were among the deer, including one string of three big ones.

Game managers agree that the private club is coming more into its own as available public hunting land of any quality gets harder to find. The concept of "farming" game and providing added recreational facilities designed for the whole family is a growing one in California.

As is the rule in similar clubs already in operation or planned, there are separate memberships for pigeon, quail, pheasant and deer hunters or one high priced all - inclusive membership. For the present, at least, there also is day shooting for pheasants at $32 and quail for $50. The year-long quail membership is $500—about the going rate at similar operations.

Indian Envoy Seeks More Arms Against Communist Chinese Peril

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indian Ambassador B. K. Nehru said today his country faces a long-term threat from Red China and the United States should resume military aid shipments — without waiting for some new Chinese pressure — in order to strengthen Indian defenses against that threat.

Nehru also told The Associated Press in an interview that the use of American-supplied arms by Pakistan in its war with India "has caused ill feeling" in his country toward the United States.

So far as India is concerned, Nehru said, the main result of the fighting has been to harden India's determination to hold on to the disputed territory of Kashmir. He virtually ruled out trying to solve the Kashmir problem through a plebiscite, saying, "We are not prepared any longer — after 18 years — to regard a solution proposed 18 years ago as being the correct solution of this problem."

In 1947, Viscount Mountbatten, then India's governor general, pledged a plebiscite when peace in then disrupted Kashmir was restored.

While making these points, Nehru ridiculed Red China's assertion that India had yielded to its ultimatum of last week and destroyed 56 military positions in the Himalayan border region. He renewed India's charge that the Chinese Communists acted in collusion with Pakistan to divert Indian forces from the Pakistan warfront to the Chinese frontier. The collusion charge had been angrily denied by Pakistani spokesmen.

The United States suspended military aid shipments to both India and Pakistan earlier this month. When Red China began threatening India and accusing it of aggression on the Chinese frontier India asked that the embargo be lifted. Nehru said he was still waiting for a reply.

B.K. NEHRU

"We would certainly ask the United States to resume military aid to India," he replied, "irrespective of the Chinese attacking us or not at this moment because the long-term threat continues. Whether they draw back now or not, the long-term threat that India has from China will continue for a very long time."

Nehru then argued that the U.S. embargo on arms shipments to his country was unjustified.

"Our contention is that the Pakistanis started the war," he said, "and we are the party that has been aggressed against. We are defending ourselves. And therefore there should never have been an arms embargo against us. In any case we were not using American weapons. We have lived up to our promises about the use of these arms."

In a speech here yesterday Pakistan Ambassador Ghulam Ahmed said India, not Pakistan, was the aggressor. Thus, he said, while both India and Pakistan used U.S.-supplied weapons in the fighting, Pakistan did not violate its promise to Washington that "these arms must not be used in aggression against the other side."

Nehru was questioned about the state of relations between India and the United States in the light of the U.S. policy of neutrality in the India-Pakistan war.

He said these relations had been good for a long time and that Indians deeply appreciated U.S. economic support and U.S. help at the time of the Chinese attack in 1962.

"The present situation, the present attack by Pakistan on us, however," he continued, "we feel could not possibly have taken place if the United States had not given this enormous amount of military aid to Pakistan over the last 11 years. It is only the possession of these arms and weapons that has enabled Pakistan to mount this attack in the hope that it would be successful.

Car No Clue To Fleeing Convicts

Finding the abandoned car of San Quentin correction officer Capt. Carl G. Hocker yesterday has left prison officials not much better off in their search for the two escaped murderers, Jimmie L. Bushbaum, 29, and Arthur G. Jones, 32, Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today.

He said no clue to the men's whereabouts was found in the car, abandoned on a side street in Emeryville. The pair escaped last Thursday in Hocker's auto, taking it across the san Rafael-Richmond Bay Bridge and disappearing before being stopped.

Park said there had been no new tips today.

In 1910 there were 214 registered voters in Novato.

Kashmir Rebels Disturb Truce; Red Wall Going Up

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A U.N.-sponsored cease - fire silenced the guns on the Indian-Pakistani front today after 22 days of bloody conflict, but continued unrest threatened within Kashmir, the cause of it all.

The Voice of Kashmir Radio, speaking for a revolutionary council that stirred outbreaks in the Indian-ruled segment of the border state last month, said a guerrilla war of liberation will be maintained.

India's defense minister, Y.B. Chavan, charged that Pakistan is still infiltrating guerrillas into Indian Kashmir and said the Indian army has been given strict instructions to deal with them.

Chavan made clear in a speech to Parliament, however, that India, for the moment at least, regards this situation as separate from the truce agreement and not a threat to the peace that has newly come to the subcontinent of 590 million people.

On the mountainous northern frontier, Communist China failed to break the peace as India expected — and the Reds appeared to be building a Himalayan version of the Berlin wall.

The India-Pakistan peace was uneasy because, although both nations had fought at great cost, they did not solve their bitter quarrel over ownership of the Himalayan state of Kashmir.

By Indian reckoning, 3,840 Pakistani and 1,157 Indian soldiers, plus hundreds of civilians, died in the conflict. The cost in terms of economic dislocation in the impoverished subcontinent was incalculable.

President Mohammed Ayub Kahn of Pakistan said that if the Kashmir problem is not solved "this continent will again be engulfed in a much wider conflict.

Heart Stilled, Victim Survives

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — John Larkin, 52, a service station operator, was revived by attendants at Alemany Emergency Hospital yesterday after his heart had stopped beating for five minutes.

Larkin suffered an epileptic seizure while drinking coffee with his partner at their station and struck his head on the pavement. He suffered another seizure in an ambulance and two more at the hospital.

An unidentified attending physician, an emergency hospital steward and nurse Emily Thomann all believed Larkin was dead, but decided to try heart massage.

Swedish Customs Observe Mama Gravander's Birthday

By MOLLY MARIN

Mrs. Axel Gravander, better known in Mill Valley as "Mama Gravander," was feted all day long on her 77th birthday Sunday. To start the day, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Fields of Ashtabula, Ohio, who are in Marin on a visit, and their daughter, Elizabeth, who works and lives in San Francisco, served her breakfast in bed. This was according to a custom in her native Sweden that included singing and presentation of flowers.

Then to get her out of her Mill Valley home so that guests could prepare for a surprise party, her friends, Mrs. Arthur Hanna and son, Stephen, took her to lunch at a Swedish restaurant in Marshall. Returning home shortly after 2 o'clock, she found 50 friends waiting to offer birthday greetings and gifts.

GUESTS AT THE wedding of Esther Tarics of Belvedere and Richard Scull Stauffer Jr. of York, Pa., last Saturday admired the unusual decorations at the St. Hilary's Church ceremony and the Belvedere Lagoon home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tarics, where the reception was held. Arrangements featuring magnolia leaves, Japanese maple, white chrysanthemums and tiny red dahlias were done by family friends, Mesdames John Hofman, Berton Stitt, John D. APPLE FOR DIM-SIGHTED WILLIAM TELL

Nine-year-old Gary Rogge has the world's largest apple on his head for his father, Maj. Gene F. Rogge of the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron to shoot off from his F-101 Voodoo Fighter. Many Marin Schoolmasters Will Bounce Beatle Bangs

Beatle haircuts may be "in" for the junior set, but they're "out" at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo.

Around Marin, and across the nation, schools this year are tightening enforcement of rules of appearance which, in some places, have fallen into dissuse and been largely forgotten.

A case in point is Isabel Cook School. A new principal took over there this month in the person of Donald L. Shaw. When school opened, he sent to parents a printed notice that boys would not be permitted at school in tight pants, pointed shoes, long hair styles, untucked shirts or unbelted pants.

Some of the boys didn't take the new prinicpal seriously. He has taken four of them home for repeated violations, proving he means business.

Although many of the youngsters object to the rules, some of the parents are all-out boosters — such as Mrs. William Shuit of 51 Alder Avenue, who declared: "I think it's wonderful. If you look good, you feel good, and you act good. There really isn't any reason why children should go to school looking like hoodlums."

Similar rules are in effect for boys at Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael. A school handbook says boys must tuck their shirts in, and must not wear tight-fitting trousers nor shoes with high heels. Girls may not wear dresses which end above the bend of the knee, nor wear slacks, shorts, culottes, strapless or "spaghetti strap" dresses. Girls' makeup must be "very tasteful" if worn at all.

The rules are not new at Davidson, but every year there are some violators, admits Principal Hanlon P. Tharp.

At Vallecito School in Dixie School District, the Parent-Teacher Assn. is backing a new set of appearance rules for seventh and eighth grade girls.

This week, more than 150 girls and 100 mothers attended a P-TA meeting in the school gymnasium to hear talks about school-time appearance and see a school fashion show. Principal Earl Thomason explained the reasons behind the new regulations. The parents applauded; not so, many of the girls.

Marin Junior College District trustees outlawed bare feet this year in a minor crackdown after repeated complaints last school year about sloppy dress on the College of Marin campus in Kentfield.

Novato High School outlaws not only beards, but also Beatle haircuts, skintight pants on boys or dresses on girls, too-short skirts — and dirty, unkempt appearance. Principal Robert Wisgerhof had to send some students home last year for violating the rules, and is ready to so again this year.

Similar rules apply in Novato's junior high schools—Hill and San Jose — according to Supt. James G. Bunker. Below junior high level, the need for them is not so great.

The rules vary in San Rafael schools. San Rafael High School has a rule against beards but Terra Linda High does not, according to Supt. Bert C. Corona.

College of Marin isn't the only school that finds its necessary to ban bare feet. There's such a ban, too, in West Marin School District, where the rural youngsters go barefoot all summer and hate to don shoes again when school starts. There's been a "real rash of barefooted students" this fall, according to Supt. Howard Brose, but they're told to put on shoes.

Long-haired boys and short-skirted girls are in revolt against conformity. School administrators claim they don't want to stifle individuality; but, as Supt. Bert C. Corona of San Rafael schools put it, "We have to enforce limits when the appearance of a child creates a distraction to the classroom environment."

There is some complaint, though, about lack of unformity in the rules. Some Marin parents might welcome a county-wide approach, like that in Tehama County, where the board of education adopted a set of rules for all school districts including this one:

"Short skirts, low-hanging trousers or other garments of revealing and distracting nature shall not be worn during school hours."

Usually, parents support such restrictions; but there are exceptions. In Cleveland Heights, Ohio, Mrs. James Bell has challenged the right of the high school to bar her son because he wears a beard—even though the Parent-Teacher Assn. concurred in the restriction. Mrs. Bell says such rules merely add to teen-agers' revolt against authority.

Woman Enters Plea Of Guilty To Petty Theft

Sarah Ellen McFarland, 32, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of petty theft. Judgment was scheduled for Oct. 14.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Dufficy moved for dismissal of a second petty theft complaint involving merchandise taken last February from the home of Marie Danielson on Calle Del Pinos in Stinson Beach.

The latter complaint was amended from an original felony charge against a second defendant, Carlos Fredric Smart, 32, Stinson Beach, who was also dismissed following an Aug. 11 preliminary hearing.

Yesterday's plea by Miss McFarland, also of Stinson Beach, involved obtaining of a ticket from Western Greyhound Lines in Mill Valley on Aug. 12.

Post-Apportionment Election May Change Legislature Drastically

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The 1966 elections could see the biggest turnover in members of the California Legislature in history.

The ordered redistricting of the state Senate probably will create about 30 new districts out of the 40 — that is, 30 districts without a solid incumbent to seek election to the new territory.

In the Assembly, at least 15 or 20 of the 80 members are expected to seek election to the new senate districts in Los Angeles, San Diego, Orange, San Francisco, Santa Clara, Alameda and perhaps Sacramento counties.

Election years normally bring about a slight turnover, due to retirments, and defeats of incumbents. The largest in recent years was the 1962 election, which saw 34 new assemblymen elected to office.

In the Senate, however, many of the senators who will be replaced because of the shift of districts from the north to the south are veterans who hold committee chairmanships through the seniority system.

One veteran senator, from a metropolitan area where he probably will face no problems in reapportionment, has proposed a partial solution to the disorganization which may result in the 1967 session.

Sen. Luther E. Gibson, D-Vallejo, a senator since 1948, said he feels the Senate might give seniority status to assemblymen of long years experience who are elected to the Senate. Gibson noted the seniority system of selecting committee chairmanships and memberships has worked well in the Senate.

"The seniority system provides experienced men to head the committees," Gibson said. "Also, it prevents committee chairmen from being handpicked by a particular party or individual, and eliminates any spoils system from the important committee leadership."

The Assembly has no seniority system, with many chairman being appointed by the Speaker after only two years in the legislature.

State Turns To Computer Against Crime

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — On two fronts, state officials announced moves today to fight crime through extended use of electric computers.

Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch, in an address to the state bar, said he is seeking $500,000 in federal funds to help pay the cost of designing a rapid communication and computer network for California law enforcement.

Richard A. McGee, administrator of the youth and adult corrections agency, announced start of a federally financed research project aimed at developing use for high speed computers. First phase of an 18-month investigation will be carried out under a $140,000 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, Bethesda, Md.

Lynch compared his proposal to the air force's world-wide computerized logistics system, and in space work. Lynch said plans include such sophisticated techniques as electronic transmission of finger-prints, making Sacramento files available throughout the state.

"The system," he said, "involves more than simply record keeping, it involves detection, and even prediction of crime.

"The new network will allow law enforcement computers to talk to each other, and to send out information in seconds that previously took hours to assemble and transmit."

Dissenters Use Privilege, Then Deny It To Others

When Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former ambassador to South Viet Nam, arrived in San Francisco at the invitation of the Commonwealth Club, demonstrators surrounded his car, blocked general.

Here is a World War II hero, who deserves the respect, not only of our country but of the whole world for helping save civilization from Nazi barbarism.

Now that the general is participating in the struggle of the free West against Communist totalitarianism, he is subjected to insults and indignities.

The very ones who are insisting on their own right to free expression are resorting to physical abuse to stifle the voices of those who hold opposing views.

When Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, visited San Francisco some days ago, authorities went to great pains to avoid advance publicity. The purpose apparently was to prevent the type of demonstrations and insults that greeted General Taylor.

Here is another dedicated public servant who served his country as draft chief during World War II and is still serving in the same capacity. General Hershey deserves a better fate than having to sneak in and out of town so that some of the people he is serving would not heap indignities upon him.

It is a sad commentary on the tenor of the times when men like General Taylor and General Hershey, who deserve respect and gratitude, are greeted with abuse and derision.

Gardening For The Birds

This year gardening at our house is for the birds, in a manner of speaking. We scatter grain on our driveway each morning and evening to attract the birds, particularly the quail, and perhaps we have been too successful.

These birds are causing a split in our personality. They have pecked our petunias to nubs. Now it is the Flower-loving us against the Bird-loving us.

We keep telling ourselves that any garden can have petunias, but it's an uncommon garden that has quail. But these quail are reproducing at a great rate and eating more and more grain and eyeing more garden plants.

Sometimes we think it serves us right for fiddling with the balance of Nature. But we do enjoy the quail.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

OVERWHELMED BY A COMPUTER

A frantic father sent a telegram to a company that had bombarded his 11-year-old daughter with 1003 pieces of advertising mail in a 4-day period.

In more ways than one, the onrush of technology presents modern man with crucial choices that only he, with God's help, can make.

Scientific advances can usher in an era of unparalleled physical and spiritual blessings for mankind. Unless each of us does something, however little, to assure that the machine is used to serve the best interests of humanity, it may "turn into a monster" and ultimately enslave us.

(Psalm 111:1)

May I always do what I can, O Lord, to make new methods serve the good of all and not defeat it.

Consumer Counsel's Warnings To Young Couples Held Useless

BY HENRY C. Mac ARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — When the state legislature sliced the budget of the consumer counsel office, it was anticipated this was a prelude to abolishing this government agency, thereby wiping out a useless expenditure of taxpayer monies.

BUT ONE CAN always leave it to the bureaucrats to dream up desperate attempts to justify their continuation as a drain from the public trough.

An effort along this line comes from the office of Helen Nelson, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's adviser on "consumer problems", Mrs. Nelson's efforts, at $18,000 a year, have so far consisted of reporting too much water in canned hams, and a treatise on interest rates.

But the office has a new one called "Tomorrow's Families", which is a twelve-page booklet with a printing of 10,000 copies, purporting to guide marrying teen-agers "toward mature practices in handling money."

"In our affluent and technologically sophisticated economy," says the booklet, "choice making is becoming increasingly difficult even for the experienced consumer. For young people, the old-fashioned method of gaining consumer experience through trial and error may prove financially disastrous.

"THEY NEED guidance now in approaching the important function of choice making in family expenditures. They need an outlook based on sound values and pertinent facts and an understanding of resources which may be available to help them."

The book appears to be something more than lax in filling this need. But it does point out the horrible consequences of young people taking on too much credit obligations and subtly warns against patronizing the high interest rate loaners when cheaper money is available, if it is.

"If education is to maintain its objective of preparing young people for responsible citizenship," says the book, "we must give serious thought to social and economic factors influencing the consumption habits of young people."

Organizations producing consumer goods have been thinking about the consumption habits of young people for years, and probably have forgotten more about these habits than the consumer counsel will ever know. Yet now that the consumer counsel has discovered the trend toward early marriages, which also has been going on for quite some years, the effort has to be made by government to direct the upcoming generation in the comparatively safe, but exceedingly dull path of security.

SOME OF THE hard facts of life are left out of the booklet. One is that when the kids want a house, car or other hard goods, they're going to go and buy, if they possibly can, despite all the warnings a beneficent government issues.

And also if they can't pay, the mortgage holder eventually is coming around to repossess the goods. Obviously, this is the most important thing young people need to know "in our affluent and technologically sophisticated economy."

A FEW WORDS of experienced advice, like "don't get in over your heads, son and daughter," might well supplant the consumer counsel's blurb.

Reader Disgusted By Editorial On Slaying

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am writing in regard to your disgusting editorial of Sept. 13.

I do not believe that the murderer of the San Rafael bartender should be set loose to do further harm.

I believe that he needs and deserves the help which would enable him to become free of the sickness which envelops him. Killing one human being does not avenge the death of another; it only compounds the tragedy.

I can only hope that the world will some day see an end to the hate expressed by the murderer and by your newspaper.

Senate Has Grounds For Impeachment

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the Sept. 17 edition of your paper there appeared an article written by Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott, which stated that, with President Lyndon B. Johnson's sanction, U.S. dealers are selling soybeans and tallow to the Soviet bloc. Also pointed out was the fact that these commodities are used to manufacture ammunition and that these exports have doubled those of 1964.

Article III, Section 3 of The Constitution of the United States says, "Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort." Article II, Section 4 states "The President, Vice President and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors." It is evident that the U.S. Senate has grounds for impeachment; the irony is that they have never declared war.

This Country Needs More Casadys

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I was shocked to read that Gov. Edmund G. Brown has asked the president of the California Democratic Council, Simon Casady, to resign from his post because of his disagreements with our president's Viet Nam policy. In other words, the governor asked him to resign because he dared to raise his voice in behalf of the defenseless boys who are being condemned to Viet Nam by Lyndon B. Johnson. Why, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon has been SHOUTING for a long time against the president's Viet Nam policy, yet no one ever accused HIM of being disloyal. What this country needs is MORE Simon Casadys and Wayne Morses.

Governor Brown should remember that this is a nation under God and not under communism nor Catholicism. Because HE does not have the full freedom to think for HIMSELF nor to EXPRESS his thoughts, is he now trying to deprive OTHERS of THEIR God-given rights and privileges? And what about our freedom of speech, especially since this is an undeclared war?

How long will our president go on driving our country into that dense and entangled wilderness? And how long will he keep on feeding our valuable men and dollars to their unquenchable fires . . .

If the lives of members of his family were threatened, I am sure he would leave no stone unturned—to get to the bottom of the trouble and to ensure safe results. But it so happens that the boys he has been sending into that fire are not members of HIS family.

To all who are in agreement with President Johnson's Viet Nam policy, let me say this, "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." — The Bible.

Better Way Needed To Prevent Blazes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Another round of disasterous fires has raged through central California, and others, possibly worse, are bound to come.

It seems callous and inexcusable — in a nation that has perfected sucth sophisticated and devilishly clever techniques for igniting the world—that no better methods than those used in the recent fires have been developed to combat such costly conflagrations. Isn't it time that science and technology (not water and manpower) be applied to the solution of this growing problem?

In view of the appalling destruction to life and property, it seems to me that it would be in the best interests of the nation if Congress were to appropriate funds for a program of study and research into this problem in the form of grants to universities and research foundations.

We've poured millions of dollars into projects to perfect formulas and techniques to instantly reduce a forest or city to ashes. With far less expense, and far more humanity, let us see what we can come up with to preserve one.

alumni played a scurvy trick on moderator John Charles Daly one evening last season. He was half way through one of his expert, multi-syllabled perorations when the crowd in the rear of the hall began an insistent cry of "Louder! Louder!" Daly pretended not to hear, but suddenly a guest in the front row—a man who bore a startling resemblance to Toots Shor himself — rose and yelled, "What's the matter back there? Can't you fellows hear what Daly's saying?" "No," they roared back. With that every man in the first two rows solemnly got up and marched to the rear.

JAMES MARLOW

Johnson Popularity, Demo Bulge Muffle Washington Fireworks

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's the noise that's missing.

THIS HAS BEEN a year of tremendous accomplishment in Congress but the Democrats so outnumber the Republicans, and President Lyndon B. Johnson hovers over both so constantly and soothingly, there is little open conflict.

"As you see someone irritating you, just grin," President Dwight D. Eisenhower said once, explaining his philosophy of getting along with people. There were plenty of times, of course, when he didn't look happy at all.

BUT THIS, and his avoidance of personal feuds, was the basis for his particular era of good feelings when he was in the White House and, for most of that time, the Democrats controlled Congress.

Luckily for him, they were very cooperative, which helped him looking pleasant. But then he didn't have anyone on his back as President Harry S. Truman did. Sens. Robert A. Taft and Joseph R. McCarthy were always on him.

He was always embattled but then no president in 20 years has had to make such momentous decisions as Truman.

F. Kennedy before him, followed the Eisenhower pattern rather than Truman's but with different results.

Kennedy had a tougher time than Johnson. In his years the Democrats' margin over the Republicans in Congress was so slim that he never came close to Johnson's success in getting his programs through.

BUT JOHNSON is also a far better political technician than Kennedy and he works around the clock lining up votes for his legislation. And Johnson is luckier than Truman in one way.

The Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, is one of his best helpers. Any Republican opposition in the Senate has been mostly insignificant.

Johnson has had trouble with the Republican House leader, Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, who has been his most persistent critic in that body. But this is where Johnson's political professionalism shows up.

Johnson pays close attention to public opinion polls. They show he has wide popular support, which is the opposite of what the 1964 elections showed for the Republicans.

Johnson apparently figured the percentages again last week when a member of his own party, Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, made a 16-page speech attacking the Johnson administration's tactics during the Dominican Republic revolt.

Johnson said not a word, letting others do it for him. Dirksen had a batch of Democrats rushed to Johnson's defense.

If the President had let himself get drawn into an argument with Fulbright, the issue Fulbright raised would have drawn far more public attention than it did. The whole thing subsided in a couple of days.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Dr. King Stills Talk On Viet Nam, Peking

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Dr. Martin Luther King is having second thoughts about his loudly proclaimed crusade for Red China's admission to the United Nations and negotiations with the Viet Cong.

The turbulent civil rights leader is piping down on this as he did on his equally stentoriously - hooplahed economic boycott of Alabama earlier this year. After garnering widespread headlines on that, King quietly stopped fulminating and nothing has been heard of it since.

The same thing is now happening on his fanfared campaign to bring Peiping into the UN, and to bring the U.S. and Viet Cong to the negotiating table.

BEHIND THIS latest flip-flop are a number of factors, foremost among them:

Mounting bitter backstage criticism and opposition from responsible civil rights leaders, including some in his own organization, to directly linking their embattled domestic movement with highly explosive foreign issues.

The decades-old Logan Act, which expressly prohibits private individuals from meddling in foreign affairs — such as writing Hanoi's Communist ruler, Ho Chin Minh, as King announced he planned to do. King has been pointedly told this would violate the law and lay him open to prosecution.

Strong possibility of a congressional investigation that would include King's personal as well as public activities. Certain congressional leaders have long had such a probe in mind. The charge that King was flouting the Logan Act could trigger this investigation.

THAT WAS the real significance behind Sen. Thomas Dodd's short but blistering castigation of King last week. A member of the Internal Security Investigating Subcommittee, the Connecticut Democrat was serving notice on King to watch his step.

"I hope no one will be turned against the civil rights movement by Dr. King's ill-advised venture in the sphere of foreign affairs," said Dodd. "He has absolutely no competence to speak about complex matters of foreign policy. And it is nothing short of arrogance when he takes it upon himself to thus undermine the policies of the president."

Congressional authorities have definitely established that 18 of those arrested last month for participating in the "march" on the Capitol to protest U.S. policies in Viet Nam are civil rights activists, positively identified as taking part in Mississippi freedom rides, sit-ins of various kinds and Negro registration drives.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT is seeking to exile Gen. Wessin y Wessin again—this time from the U.S.

On direct orders from the White House, Secretary Dean Rusk is sounding out diplomats here to find a Latin American government willing to accept the dedicated anti-Communist general when he is again deported.

President Lyndon B. Johnson said at an unannounced meeting of administration policymakers that Wessin had to be silenced.

The president revealed that his congressional aides had received word that a House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee was launching a full-scale investigation of the "Wessin affair" and planned to call the exiled general to hear his story.

Reps. William Mailliard, R-Calif., and H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, questioned the State Department's intentions after receiving details that the same CIA agents who tried to bribe General Wessin to leave the Dominican Republic also approached Gen. de Los Santos.

BOTH GENERALS indignantly rejected the attempts to buy them off, according to information furnished the GOP legislators.

General de Los Santos flatly told the two CIA agents he intended to remain in his post to insure against Communist seizure of power, and that no money could buy his patriotism.

Both Generals Wessin and de Los Santos have charged the U.S. with aiding the Communists in the Dominican Republic by forcing the removal of all strong anti-Communist generals from positions of power in the country's military organization.

"Sometimes the fellow who makes the most noise about a problem turns out to be the one who does the least about it."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By STEPHEN COOK

Cool Main Drag Makes Commute Crush Seem Real Speedy

Bumper-to-bumper traffic is an anathema to Marin County adults who find themselves commuting in the thick of it every morning and evening.

To the county's younger set, however, it is "camp" . . . "in" . . . "the thing to do."

NOWHERE is this made more obvious than on Fourth Street in downtown San Rafael. By day, the street is crammed to capacity with cars piloted by harrassed housewives searching for that elusive parking place in front of the shop of their desire.

At night, while breadwinner and homemaker unwind from the day's tensions in front of the television set, that same main drag becomes the scene of a rather awe-inspiring social phenomenon.

Homework done, the county's teen-age population becomes mobile. They climb into their own cars or cars of their parents or friends. Then, lazily, as if unintentionally, they begin to migrate. With the instinct of the salmon heading upstream to spawn, they all seem to end up on Fourth Street, San Rafael, cruising the main drag.

The resulting traffic is as bad, if not worse, as that weathered by their fathers while commuting to and from work along Highway 101. Their attitude to the congestion, however, is just the opposite.

IF THE TRAFFIC is light and they spend little time in touring the main drag, then the town is "dead." There is no action and it probably is time to head home for an hour of watching the "boob tube" before they turn in.

This is rarely the case though. The normal night-time tour of Fourth Street takes about 20 minutes and it is stop and go traffic all the way—really groovy! When a car filled with youngsters hits the end of the drag—usually about Fourth and Lincoln—it is time to turn around and make the scene in the opposite direction.

This rather peculiar traffic jam is pure ritual. Anyone who decides it could be an enjoyable way of passing an evening had best know the rules before he eases his auto out into the Fourth Street stream.

FIRST, is is generally a stag function. Both sexes are well represented during the drag, but they are in different cars. This enables social interaction at a distance. It is comparable to the teen-age dance, where one's partner is liable to be anywhere within a 10 foot radius on the dance floor.

Second, one's position in the car—at most times—should indicate complete indifference. This is usually accomplished by slouching down on the seat and leaning one's head back. One's head may be turned only when a car filled with members of the opposite sex rolls by. It is often helpful to wear dark glasses. This enables the participant to glance from side to side without giving himself away.

THE LAST important rule governs the method of conversation. If there is a fellow in a neighboring car one wants to "put down" or a girl whose qualities merit praise, the comments should never be made directly to the objects of the praise or scorn.

In a practiced tone of voice, one speaks to a companion in his own car about this other person. If done right, the message will carry to the person in the other car and one will have "kept his cool."

To the practical mind, there seems only one advantage in this almost nightly ritual. In about 10 years, Marin is likely to have a population of suburbanites who can make some fun out of their daily commute.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Alice In Wonderland Proves Not Amusing In Political Life

BOY AND MAN, I've had many a chuckle over the wonderful nonsense of Lewis Carroll. The adventures of Alice with that delightful group of kooks who inhabit Wonderland and the utterly logical illogicality of their double talk, I was certain, would never lose their charm.

But that was while the characters remained within the realm of fiction. Somehow, as they come to life in the queer era and the King rules over a court that includes the Mad Hatter, the March Hare and Humphrey-Dumphrey, I am—like Queen Victoria — not amused. In fact, I'm scared stiff.

Not that the King isn't a hard working fellow. After all, he appears on TV more often than Peyton Place and, like the other stars, he has to rise early to study his lines, see that his clothes are properly pressed, and put on his make-up. And he has to do all this in the dark, because the lights are off in his studio for reasons of economy. His electricity bill is probably now $14 a month under Eisenhower's, and that's not bad campaign material.

BUT HE KNOWS his way in the dark though, under the circumstances, one left hand might find it hard to know what the other was doing. He speaks his lines with authority, even if you cannot rely on the dictionary to decipher them. In Wonderland, as Carroll pointed out, the words mean only what the speaker chooses them to mean—and sometimes that's anybody's guess.

Thus not long ago we were promised—and got—a tax cut that left the puzzled taxpayer just a little worse off than before if he hadn't read the fine print.

And now we have an education bill that will insure the best of professors and equipment for the colleges and provide every one of us, regardless of sex, creed, color or previous condition of ineptitude, with a Ph. D.

Yet we offset this boost for higher learning by passing what amounts to a bill of attainder against certain states and compel them to allow their citizens to vote even if they can only sign their names with an X. Still, that's all any of us is allowed to mark his ballot with, come to think of it.

The Chief Justice, at a conference on world peace, talks solemnly of respect for internation law. Yet, if there's a riot, we immediately appropriate millions to improve the lot of the rioters—but not one cent of tribute for the widows and orphans of the police and the firemen who died preserving law and order.

IT IS STILL considered extremely bad form to point out any weakness in the U. N., that ever-loving body of peaceful states to which both India and Pakistan belong. The solution for any difficulties, according to some eminent March Hares, is to admit non-violent Red China; then everything will be hunky-dory.

Secretary Rusk boasts we have alliances with some 42 nations, but these are apparently unilateral. We have been trying to get our allies to help out in Viet Nam, but some have responded by shipping food and what might be considered war material to Hanoi.

The administration's heart bleeds for the embattled farmer. But here in California, thanks to government interference, a large part of our tomato crop was lost because there was no one to pick it. (I said pick it—not picket.) Yet all the while able-bodied men nearby were drawing relief pay—which, of course, is non-taxable anl requires no stoop labor.

And, in line with this reasoning, I have just read an article by a California savant who deems the Young Republicans unfair in denouncing Sen. Thomas Kuchel as a pseudo-Republican. He produces figures to prove that, out of 100 roll calls last year, the Senator voted 40 per cent of the time with his party. What do those YRs demand, in heaven's name, a passing mark?

When those young extremists argue that the GOP whip has deserted his party, they are promptly charged with juvenile delinquency. But what was it when Kuchel refused to endorse either Goldwater or George Murphy in the latter's Senate race—middle-aged delinquency? Careful. That unsound conclusion would mark you as a far-out right-winger. Think it over, calmly and illogically, and you'll get the right answer.

INCIDENTALLY, we have a new Republican splinter group here—this one composed of "moderates" who think 40 per ent is pretty high — and its president, on TV the other night, refused to say whom he'd voted for in 1964, contending that was his private business. This would be the ideal guy to be out ringing doorbells for you.

Brisbane Voters Outlaw Dumping

BRISBANE (UPI) — Brisbane voters Tuesday passed a measure cancelling permits of San Francisco scavenger companies to dump San Francisco garbage in the tidelands off Brisbane.

Earlier, the Brisbane City Council had aproved a permit for Sanitary Fill Co. to use 235 acres east of Bayshore Freeway. The Corps of Engineers gave a final okay for use of 100 of those acres.

San Francisco officials now are seeking a solution to the problem of where to dispose of the city's refuse.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Sept. 23, the 266th day of 1965 with 99 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1943, the U.S., Great Britain, Russia and China established the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) to help war-liberated areas of the world.

A thought for the day: Poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow said: "Music is the universal language of mankind . . . poetry their universal pastime and delight."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Tourney Play Miscue Used As Fodder For The Column

Opening lead — ♣ Q

South won the first trick with the ace of clubs and led out the ace and king of hearts. The queen did not drop, but South was not yet down.

TRIES FINESSE

Declarer led a diamond and tried a finesse with dummy's queen. East won with the king of diamonds and drew a round of trumps with the queen of hearts.

South could ruff only one diamond now, and when the jack of diamonds failed to drop he was down.

SHOULD FINESSE

After taking the ace of clubs and one high trump, South should try the diamond finesse. East wins with the king of diamonds and returns a club to dummy's king.

When the finesse wins, South is home. In fact, if the opponents are not careful he may even make an overtrick.

The point is that South is safe if the trump finesse happens to lose. In that case there will be no trumps out, and declarer will have two trumps in dummy for his two losing diamonds.

It isn't often that you can take a finesse and be safe whether the finesse wins or loses.

DAILY QUESTION

♠ A 7 5 4
♥ J 10 6 5

♣ K 5 4

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one club.

You don't really have a comfortable rebid if you open with one spade or one heart; besides which it seldom pays to open with a weak four-card major suit. You will have no rebid problem if you open with one club.

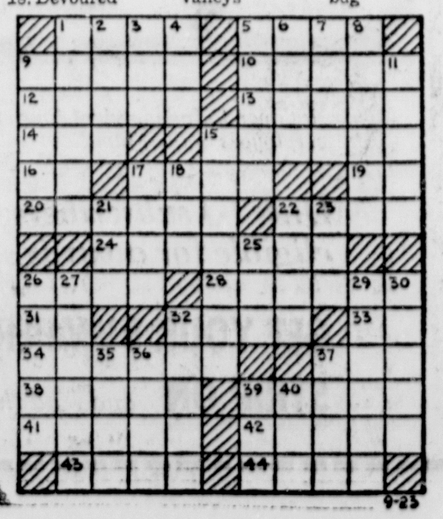
Yesterday's Answer



Though its jurisdiction is restricted technically to Greater London, Scotland Yard men can investigate serious crime elsewhere in the United Kingdom if requested by local constables. If the assistance is requested within 24 hours of a crime, it's free; otherwise, the local government has to foot the bill.

Lawyer Attacks TV Courtroom Coverage

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A past president of the California State Bar attacked the televising of court trials yesterday on grounds it would subject the courtroom to "professional showmen."

"I think we can have fair trial with a moderate amount of freedom of the press," Frank Belcher told the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary, which held a hearing on the subject of fair trial and free press in conjunction with the state bar convention.

Belcher, of Los Angeles, said the State Judicial Council will consider this fall a proposal to prohibit still photographers and TV cameras in the courtroom. The rule would be similar to the controversial Canon 35 of the American Bar Association.

Belcher, who said 48 states already have incorporated Canon 35 into their court rules, said he had no quarrel with the public's right to know but said TV cameras "destroy the essential dignity" of a courtroom trial.

The attorney said a trial should not be subject to "professional showmen."

"It's my firmest conviction of photography in the courtroom differs in no material way from reporters in the courtroom," he told the lawmakers.

"One simple guideline can serve reporters, photographers, judges, prosecutors and defense counsels: nothing must be done deliberately to prejudice the rights of an individual."

Heatly said California broadcasters are not asking permission now to televise trials.

"We want to work out some procedures before we even seek permission to do this," he said.

He added that all that television and newspaper photographers want is to ask that the Judicial Council not be allowed to propose restrictions against photography in court or during recesses in trials in the meantime.

Summer Seems Like Autumn

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau reported today the past summer was cooler and wetter than normal.

In June, July and August, temperatures in most parts of the country averaged about two degrees below normal. Only in small, scattered sections was it slightly warmer than normal, the bureau said.

The bureau's weekly crop bulletin said seasonal rainfall was above normal over more than half the country, although drought persisted in the Northeast.

We Can't Quite Decide. —Is It Late Mediterranean Or Early Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer?
In either event it is bold and massive and appeals to artistic people. It is well located on a quiet knoll in the heart of the Dominican area. It has a beautiful view, a magnificent entrance, a stately living room, a formal dining room, a breakfast room, an adequate kitchen, a large master bedroom suite with a sun room, a small second bedroom, a maid's room and a large "bunker" downstairs suitable for boys. A house as grand as this should have six or seven bedrooms. This one doesn't so we reduced the price $5,000—now being offered for $52,500.

U.S. Domestic Worker Problem's A Puzzler

By SAMUEL SHARKEY JR.
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—If the wife complains she has to do all the housework, she's a member of a large and expanding group.

The reason: domestic workers are regularly employed today by only one home in 12. In round numbers, that's 4.8 million households.

The Labor Department announced these figures in reporting the results of a pilot survey of household jobs. It defines these as including "private household workers" plus practical nurses, chauffeurs, gardeners and odd-job men. Altogether 5.2 million people work in these 4.8 million homes.

These jobs appear most requently in homes where both the husband and wife work, their need for help is greater and they have more income to pay for the work.

Only 8 per cent of the households are sufficiently affluent in this affluent society to employ more than one worker. Only one of four jobs was for a full week. The majority were for one day (39 per cent) or a half day or less (20 per cent).

The largest category of domestic is "day worker" (44 per cent). The rest of the jobs were distributed this way: baby sitters, 19 per cent; cooks or maids, 13 per cent; housekeepers, 11 per cent; gardeners, 9 per cent; and "other"—odd-job men, practical nurses, butlers, chauffeurs, and such—4 per cent. The proportion of gardeners probably would have been higher, the survey notes, if the study had not been taken in January, a winter month.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said 97 per cent of the jobs were in nonfarm households, two-thirds of them in metropolitan areas, divided about equally between the central city and surrounding cities and suburbs.

A sociological oddity is that with national unemployment of 3,258,000, as just announced, there are 175,000 vacancies for regular household help—mostly for day workers and housekeepers.

But the difficulty of matching workers with jobs is shown by the fact that 84,000 domestics were unemployed.

Their unemployment rate declined in a year to 5.4 per cent, from 5.8 per cent, and the total number of persons working in such jobs decreased by about 55,000.

So, if a maid or a cook (or a chauffeur) can't be obtained these days, the missing worker is probably one of those 55,000 who went up or out—upgraded in skill and job, or out of the labor force entirely.

The peaks of domestic employment probably came around the turn of the century and again in the twenties, at least from a percentage viewpoint, the Labor Department estimates in the absence of formal statistics on the matter that far back. Then perhaps one family in six had household help.

The North Pacific Coast Railroad was sold to a syndicate in January, 1902, and its name was changed to the North Shore Railway. The narrow-gauge section between Sausalito, Mill Valley and San Rafael (via San Anselmo) was built for a third-rail electric system. Electric service started Oct. 17, 1903.

New Vista Opens In Cancer Field With Study Of Insects

VAN DELLEN

ARE INSECTS capable of transmitting cancer? There is considerable circumstantial evidence that this occurs among those in certain areas of Africa and in laboratory animals. The idea is reasonable, provided the tumors are initiated by viruses. After all, we know that a number of infections caused by a variety of microorganisms are insect-transmitted.

The tsetse fly is suspected as being the transmitter of a tumor among the inhabitants of tropical Africa. The victim develops swellings of certain tissues and organs including the eyes, kidneys, salivary gland, liver, testicles, bone, ovary and brain. Involvement of the jawbone is common. Children under age 9 are attacked most often.

THE TUMORS occur among those living in tropical Africa, from the east coast to the west. The disease is not found north of the Sahara, in South Africa, or in the islands of Zanzibar and Pemba, only 30 miles off the tumor-bearing east coast. In addition, the growths have developed in Europeans, Asians and Africans, demonstrating the importance of the place and not the race.

The theory that the tsetse fly transmits this agent comes from the observation that temperature and rainfall influence viral growth. Tumor distribution is greater in the areas infested by this insect. In addition, the area corresponds to the same geographical limits where other viral insect-borne diseases are noted.

THE CLUSTERING of several cases of leukemia in a Chicago suburb has been used as evidence that the disease may be caused by viruses. Were the viruses transmitted by close contact or by insects? The latter is a good possibility.

Mosquitoes are said to carry tumor cells from one hamster to another. This is noted in the laboratory and represents a direct transfer of the cancer to a susceptible host. These observations open up an entirely new vista in the cancer field.

FREQUENCY

Mrs. G. writes: My 12-year-old daughter has to go to the bathroom frequently—at least every three hours. The doctor says the cause is nervous tension. Her kidneys and bladder are in good condition.

REPLY

Nervousness is one of the most common origins of this condition. No doubt your physician came to this conclusion after investigating the problem thoroughly with X-rays and other tests.

CONVULSIONS AFTER INJURY

B. T. writes: What is traumatic epilepsy?

REPLY

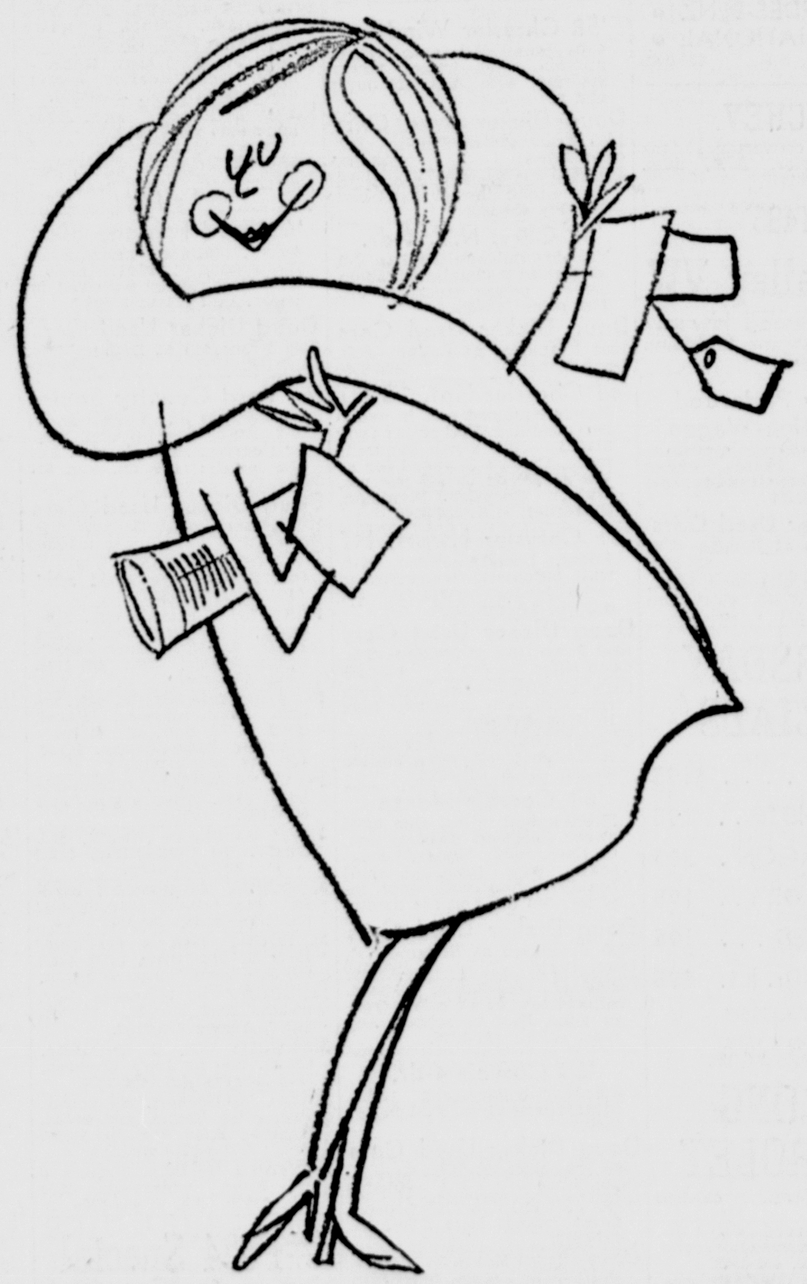
Today's Health Hint — Wear well-fitted shoes and slippers.



In the big romance between clothes and the girl ...the newspaper is the go-between

Every woman loves clothes, period. She loves to look at the newspapers to see what's in, what's out, who's wearing what. When she reads the fashion ads, she feels she's in the store. And quicker than you can get there checking ad response, chances are she will be in the store. Because newspapers are the ideal medium to tell the clothes story; they tell where to buy, and in their detailed sketches or photographs, they can give a woman the essential buying information. (Just as true in foods, home furnishings, cars, and everything else.) No wonder newspapers are the No. 1 advertising medium,

Research Plane Flies High, Fast

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—Research bomber XB-70A has made its 16th flight to study the plane's stability at high speeds.

During yesterday's one hour, 57-minute flight, the plane reached a top speed of 1,900 miles per hour and an altitude of 66,400 feet.

Although the plane is designed to fly a maximum of three times the speed of sound and 70,000 feet, a spokesman for North American Aviation, Inc., builders of the plane, stated that no date has been set to test the plane for its maximum capabilities.

TELEVISION REVIEW

New Emmy Structure Should Be Enlarged

By RICK DU BROW

The latest case, tracing back to NBC-TV's Emmy show of 11 days ago, is the most hilarious. I has thought that most reasonable people had long ago equated the yearly Emmy popularity thing with the importance of those toothpaste contests. But no. There has been serious soul-searching over the show and the awards structure, and there have been anguished cries, and the smell of sour grapes is in the air, mostly, I am sorry to say, here in my favorite town, Hollywood, which got murdered by New York in the prize system allegedly based on excellence.

There are now wailings here—and they will possibly be effective—that Emmy should go back to the old "best category entry" arrangement, which of course guarantees plenty of soothed egos, just like in the quiz shows — something for nothing, win or lose—quality or no, fan magazine style. It is not too surprising that one celebrity firm here has been suspected over the years of helping to create awards (by no means the Emmy) to present to its clients.

It is a slight irony that the day after the Emmy show, the new entertainment season started, and it is generally conceded to be perhaps television's worst year—but come 1966, and awards time, there will be the same wailing that, after all, there should be some prizes for the new entries simply because they were put on.

Well, now, wailing is not conducive to logic. There seems to be a failure here, and among some video people in the east as well, to separate the Emmy show — which was indeed a bomb—from the new structure based on supposed excellence rather than "best category entry."

If the Emmy awards are ever to be regarded seriously, they must follow this year's structure direction—in fact, go well beyond it, by frankly separating the news prizes from the general aura of the show business contest, and allowing public affairs winners to be chosen completely independently of the current setup.

There is no doubt, though, that the Television Academy must decide which it considers more important—the awards or the show. If it gives priority to the awards, it must continue on its present path. If it feels it must present a fan-magazine-quality show, and soothe egos, then that is also a perfectly fair choice—but it means, of course, that under no conditions can the awards be taken seriously.

There are some here who feel that favorite public performers should automatically gather rewards simply because they appear on a regular basis, no matter how routinely. It strikes me that a fellow who is earning $5,000 or $10,000 a week for unexceptional, or even routinely good work, is being amply rewarded.

More than 83 thousand new and rebuilt freight cars were placed in service on American railroads in 1964, more than double the 1962 total.

Farr Associates Proposal Revived

Reuther Wants Auto Price Hike Reduced

NEW YORK (UPI) — A demand for a roll-back of auto price increases announced by the Chrysler Corp. was voiced yesterday by Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, UAW.

Reuther said the UAW would press for a congressional investigation of automobile prices and profits if General Motors, Ford and American Motors follow Chrysler's price lead.

He warned that "profiteers" in other industries would be encouraged to raise their prices and the nation would face an inflationary spiral unless the Chrysler action is rescinded.

In Washington, White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers told newsmen Tuesday that Chrysler's new price list was under study by the Commerce Department and the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

Moyers said any White House comments on the price situation at this time would be "premature." Another administration source said that careful study would be needed to discover if Chrysler's price hike more than covered the cost of safety features and other equipment the company said it will install in its new models.

In announcing the price changes, Chrysler said it would continue to pass along to consumers the three per cent excise tax cut that took effect in June as well as other cuts scheduled for the future.

"There is absolutely no economic justification for price increases on 1966 car models," Reuther said in a statement issued at an AFL-CIO executive council meeting.

"Despite its solemn pledges to Congress and to the public to pass on excise tax reductions, Chrysler has now juggled its price structure to recapture excise tax savings which were intended to benefit consumers."
